UNPAID STREET BILLS APPROVED BY COUNCIL

These Are Bills That Should Have Been Paid Last Year and Now Special Loan is Required

The municipal council met this forenoon to resume its consideration of the unpaid bills of the street department for 1912, a portion of the bills having been taken up at yesterday's meeting. Persons owed by the city have been after the commissioners in an endeavor to have them hasten payments of the bills and in some cases, it is stated, suits were threatened.

Commissioner Brown, who had charge of streets and highways in 1912, objected to the bills being read by the mayor, giving as his reason that the matter of the commissioner of streets and highways was now before the district attorney. "I want to save my rights. I will be tried by a jury of my peers, and not by this council," he said.

The mayor proceeded to read the bills, and the first bill for $124.50 for granite blocks used on East Merrimack street and supplied by the Hildreth Granite Co. of Boston.

"I want my rights saved in this matter and I do not propose to vote on any of these bills," said Mr. Brown.

Mayor—Did you say this is not a correct bill?

Mr. Brown—No, I do not propose to be cross-examined. The council should go into a committee of accounts to consider these bills.

The mayor has addressed a communication to the district attorney calling his attention to the fact that as commissioner of streets, he exceeded his appropriation in 1912. These unpaid bills have been agitated for the last five months and this procedure here today looks as if it were a move to bring out evidence against me. This is a delicate matter.

Mayor—Misapprehend the whole situation. The only question is as to whether or not these bills are correct. All we ask you to do is to say if these are correct bills. Isn't that fair?

Mr. Brown then asked City Auditor Paige to read the unpaid bills and called particular attention to the lighting bill amounting to $17,822.78. Mr. Brown said he was not allowed any appropriation for the lighting bill and was not responsible for the bill going unpaid.

The mayor said he was willing to have the council resolve itself into a committee on accounts, but no motion was made to that effect, and the mayor proceeded to read the bills.

Mr. Brown objected on the ground that to read the bills would be to "agitate" them.

"It is not agitating. It is identifying," said the mayor.

After reading the bills the mayor asked Mr. Brown if he would make a motion to approve them.

Mr. Brown said he did not dispute the bills but would not move their approval.

Commissioner Barrett moved that the bills be approved and Commissioner Cummings seconded the motion. It was so voted. Mr. Brown not voting.

The mayor then took up the bills disputed by Mr. Brown.

Last Year's Bills

The unpaid bills for 1912 as acknowledged by Mr. Brown amounted to $11,590.53, and the amount of the bills disputed by him was $123,935. These bills, of course, do not include the lighting bill, for which he had no appropriation.

A bill covering Supt. Putnam's expenses to a good roads convention and amounting to $27.15, was not disputed by Mr. Brown, but he thought in view of the fact that Mr. Putnam had gleaned information that would stand him in good stead this year, the bill might well be paid out of the street department appropriation for this year.

The mayor said that a bill contracted last year could not be paid for out of any regular appropriation for 1913.

Contagious Disease Hospital

Mayor O'Donnell took occasion to call the municipal council's attention to the great need of a contagious disease hospital and said the selection of a site would be the first step.

"Do you feel, gentlemen, that we ought to have a contagious hospital?" Of course the law makes it mandatory," said the mayor.

No reply was made, and a few minutes later two of the members were trying to make a trade on desks.

Mr. Cummings asked about the bill of the Adams Furniture Co. for the furniture installed in the office of the commissioner of streets in 1912 and for which no payment has been made.

Mr. Cummings said he wanted to get a desk, and he wondered if he could take the desk that had been purchased from the Adams Furniture Co.

"You have a good desk in your office now," said Mr. Brown.

"I want a desk for one of the fire houses," said Mr. Cummings.

Mr. Brown said he had a desk in his office that he would like to trade for a better desk and he allowed his desk was good enough for a fire house.

This was as far as the trade went.

The following bills, undisputed by Mr. Brown, were approved by the council:

LOWELL INN CHANGES HANDS

Sold by Thomas F. Hoban to Frank E. Harris

New Owner Will Make It a First Class Hotel

Mr. Hoban, Has Done Business There for 18 Years

MR. THOMAS F. HOBAN

MR. FRANK E. HARRIS

The Lowell Inn, one of the oldest hostilities in Lowell, has changed hands. The new owner is Frank E. Harris of Belmont street, this city, and he made application this forenoon, for a transfer of the license. Mr. Harris will take possession about June 1.

Thomas F. Hoban has been proprietor and manager of the Lowell Inn for the past eighteen years and has been going on for some time. Mr. Hoban is owner of the Richardson hotel and despite the fact that he had become attached to the Lowell Inn, having lived there for so many years, he decided to dispense with the care of it and, after a vacation that may include a trip abroad, Mr. Hoban will take up his abode at the Richardson hotel.

"I have been here for so many years," said Mr. Hoban this morning, "that it was with considerable reluctance that I finally decided to sell out."

I have been considering it for two or three years and when the man showed up with the money I allowed that he had bought something. I expect to turn the house over to Mr. Harris about June 1, and then I will take a vacation in eighteen years and I feel now as if I could enjoy one."

As a young man Mr. Hoban worked in White's tannery and by hard work, perseverance and good management, he succeeded in getting money enough together to start in business for himself. He has been very successful as a hotel man. Mr. Hoban served in the city council as well as in the legislature and his friends are legion.

Mr. Harris, the new owner, is well known in this city. He is a keen business man and a hustler. He has been engaged in various enterprises in this city and of late he has been more or less interested in real estate. He conducted the Harris restaurant at the corner of Central and Middlesex streets and later had a garage in Appleton street.

Asked, today, what changes, alterations or additions, if any, he intended to make in the Lowell Inn, Mr. Harris said: "I intend to renovate it and change it all over. It is my intention to make it the most modern hotel in the city. I think Lowell has no better location to offer for a hotel than that occupied by the Lowell Inn and the way is clear to make it a first class hotel." Mr. Harris said that the changes would include additional stories.

It is perhaps passing strange to note that the Lowell Inn is falling into the hands of the namesake of its original owner. F. E. Harris had the hostelry before Mr. Hoban took charge and Mr. Harris' initials are still on the safe in Mr. Hoban's office. The Lowell Inn is numbered 19-21 Central street and belongs to the Carlton estate.

The thirty-first annual session of the Massachusetts Association of Free Baptist Churches was held at the Fairbanks Baptist church today with a large number of delegates present from cities throughout the state.

The meeting was opened this morning at 9:30 o'clock with a devotional service that was conducted by Rev. F. E. Carver.

Letters from members of the association were read and the delegates were appointed to attend the thirty-third annual session of the Union Association of Free Baptist Churches, to be held in July. Rev. W. W. Harris of Chelsea presided at the meeting, and Rev. J. T. Towner acted as secretary.

The following delegates were chosen: Mrs. F. E. Carver, Mrs. Sarah Fox, Mrs. J. T. Towner, and Miss Ruth C. Harris of Chelsea; Rev. W. J. Doe of Somerville.

The following committees were elected to serve the Massachusetts Association of Free Baptist Churches: Committee on credentials: Rev. C. E. McCollay of Lawrence, Rev. C. F. Lowrey of Lowell and Mrs. Morse of Lowell.

Committee on business and nomination of officers: Deacon M. A. Bann of Lynn, Rev. H. H. Hayes of Boston, and Deacon J. W. Doe of Somerville.

Committee on resolutions: Deacon O. J. Randlett of Lawrence, Rev. L. Malvern, D. D. of Lynn and Mrs. H. H. Hayes of Boston.

The treasurer's report for the year ending May 1, 1913, showed that the association is in a good financial condition, with a balance of $103.67 on hand, a gain of about $10 over the amount last year.

Rev. W. J. Towner of Haverhill gave a very instructive talk on "The Church of the Living God." He stated that he had been a member of the association for twenty-four years and that he has probably been in service longer than any minister connected with the association today.

The speaker compared the church of today with that of several years ago, and he also went into the future when he stated that he believed that in time there would be more unity between the churches of all denominations.

Dinner was served in the vestry of the church at 12:15 and nearly 200 people sat down at the tables to enjoy the dainties that were arranged by the ladies of the church.

The first of a series of meetings of Free Baptists of the 31st annual session of the Massachusetts Association of Free Baptist churches was held at the Paige Street church last night. There was an open public service and the preacher was Rev. W. W. Harris of the Horace Memorial Free Baptist church of Chelsea. There was a conference of the ministers yesterday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Harris, the preacher, had been pastor of the church in 1894-96. The services were conducted by Rev. Horace Hayes of the First Free Baptist church of Boston, a former Lowell resident and member of the Paige Street church. Rev. W. J. Towner, pastor of the Winter Street Free Baptist church of Haverhill, offered the prayers and Rev. Benjamin R. Harris, pastor of the Paige Street church, assisted at the service.

At the preliminary meeting last evening, the sermon, dealing with opportunities and how men receive them, was preached by Rev. W. W. Harris and it proved to be a very interesting and thoughtful discourse. Following the text, taken from the Epistle to the Romans, chapter 10, verse 13, "Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved," he said that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding, nor yet favor to men of skill; but time and chance happeneth to them all.

The Lowell Ministers' union will hold a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. rooms on Tuesday, May 20 at 12:15 o'clock. Luncheon will be served and a musical program will follow. All ministers intending to go are requested to notify the secretary of the union.

BOSTON & MAINE WINS CASE INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION

Verdict for Defendant Ordered by Court—Action of Tort Against Proprietors of the Kasino

The case against the Boston & Maine railroad brought by the administrator of the estate of Edward Powers, late of Concord, which was started in superior court yesterday morning, came to a close in the latter part of the afternoon, when the court ordered a verdict for the defense, represented by attorneys Trull and Wier.

The next case started was an action of tort against Messrs. Charles E. Bunker and Edward T. Cushing, proprietors of the Kasino, in the sum of $10,000. The plaintiffs are John F. Lane and Miss Etta F. Blanchard, who claim that on July 13, 1912, they attended the Kasino and accompanying them was a young lady friend of Miss Blanchard's who is not now in the city. The plaintiffs allege that they were assaulted by Jonathan Bowers, an employee of the Kasino, and by Mr. Bunker, one of the proprietors, and that Mr. Lane was shoved off the floor and put out of the Kasino without cause.

The first witness called was Mr. Lane, who testified that he has been keeping company with Miss Blanchard on an average of once a week, and on the night of July 13 went there with Miss Blanchard and her friend and bought tickets for dancing. He said the dance was just about half over when Mr. Bowers came up and grabbed hold of his shoulder and said, "Cut that out." "Mr. Bunker then came," said the witness, "and pushed me both sides." Witness further stated that a special police officer came up and told him to get out, and he said, he was rushed down the steps and into the street.

Miss Blanchard, who is employed at Pillsbury's shoe shop, told practically the same story. She claimed that Mr. Bunker pushed her aside when he came up and spoke to Mr. Lane. The defense claimed that Mr. Lane and Miss Blanchard were turning at the corners and going from right to left instead of from left to right as the others were going, and that they bumped into other dancers. They also claim that the plaintiffs were requested to leave the hall, but that neither Mr. Bowers nor Mr. Bunker put hand upon them, and that the police officer used only such force upon Mr. Lane as was necessary to remove him from the hall, after he had refused to go. Those who testified to that effect were Jonathan Bowers, James H. Buckley, Francis A. Clark, Miss Sadie Clark and Messrs. Bunker and Cushing.

The case came to a close this noon when arguments were presented. It was given to the jury before the noon recess.

Messrs. Farley and Tierney appeared for the plaintiffs and D. J. Donahue for the defendants.

Court Adjourned

At the opening of the superior court session this afternoon, two cases were called in default, and inasmuch as there was no case ready for trial, court adjourned until tomorrow morning.

Lake Mohonk Conference Opened Today

Chairman Abbott Says Bark of Cannon Will Continue

MOHONK LAKE, N. Y., May 14.—Three hundred delegates to the annual Lake Mohonk conference on international arbitration heard Dr. Lyman Abbott of New York, presiding as chairman of the opening session today assert that disarmament was as yet a Utopian dream; that "the blow of the fist, the gleam of the sword, the bark of the cannon will continue until some other power greater than that of armed men is found to protect innocence from injustice."

ADMIT KILLING FATHER

Otto and Fred Watson Make Confession

DOUGLAS, Ariz., May 14.—Otto and Fred Watson, 19 and 21 years old respectively, arrested several days ago, charged with the murder of their father, William Watson, a ranchman, confessed to the district attorney today that they had committed the crime.

They told a story of a cruel treatment at the hands of their father, in which their mother was also a victim. On the day of the murder, they said, he had the intention to kill the family. The boys shot him just as he was about to shoot them, according to their story.

Watson was nearly decapitated by a charge of buckshot.

CHARGED WITH BRIBERY

Sen. Stillwell Will be Tried Wednesday

ALBANY, N. Y., May 14.—State Senator Stephen Stillwell will be tried next Wednesday on the indictment charging him with bribery. Supreme court Justice Seabury set this date today. The indictment charges Senator Stillwell with having attempted to obtain $3500 from George H. Kendall, president of the New York Banknote Co. for favorable reports of committees of the legislature on a bill drawn at Kendall's behest.

PUBLIC HEARINGS ISSUE

Senate Republicans Prolong Consideration

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Senate republicans were again ready today to prolong consideration of the public hearings issue they have raised as the opening wedge in their fight on the Underwood bill.

Senator Simmons' reference motion has now become the Penrose-Lafollette amendment. The Pennsylvania having accepted a proposal that manufacturers be required to answer 15 questions relating to production and transportation costs here and abroad and the percentages of duty that represent cost differences and profits have any fear of letting the public hearing amendment come to a vote. It was in the midst of the debate yesterday that Senator Bacon moved for an executive session and that gave rise to rumors that the majority wanted more time to rally opposition to the republican attack.

HEART EXPOSED 6 YEARS

The Death of Man Whose Case Was Unique

ST. JOHN, N. B., May 14.—The death of Joseph Carey in the General Public hospital here closed the career of one whose case has for six years been regarded as unique by the medical profession of the continent.

Carey, underwent an operation in Boston half a dozen years ago for lung trouble, when Dr. Samuel Robinson removed part of the left lung. In order to do this several ribs had to be taken away, and the result of the operation, while saving the man's life, was that his heart was left practically exposed. It was said that the beats of the heart could be plainly seen through the thin tissues that covered that organ, and the man was in great demand by physicians and surgeons who wished to study the action of the heart, while at its accustomed work in the body of a living man.

After the operation, Carey apparently regained his usual health and had been working in St. John during the four years since the operation. He contracted a heavy cold several days ago and was taken to the General Public hospital, but pneumonia developed.

COUNTERFEIT $5 BILL

Even Passed at the New York Subtreasury

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The dangerous counterfeit Indian head $5 silver certificate recently discovered continues in circulation, despite the vigilance of secret service and treasury officials.

The notes, which are almost perfect imitations of the genuine, are finding their way into banks and even the subtreasury at New York. Several are being passed weekly and the secret service operatives have redoubled their efforts to find the counterfeiter.

The notes are printed on genuine paper obtained by washing $1 bills. Government officials believe that the maker of the notes is the same counterfeiter who for months circulated bogus $1 bills in Boston, Philadelphia and other eastern cities.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER

Kinsella and Fitzgerald Were Discharged

BOSTON, May 14.—Thomas F. Kinsella and John V. Fitzgerald, both South Boston young men, were acquitted in the South Boston court yesterday on the charge of murder in causing the death of Michael McDonough.

Not one of the 11 witnesses for the prosecution could testify to having seen either Kinsella or Fitzgerald strike McDonough on the night of Saturday, May 3, during a general disturbance at the corner of West 2d and Dorchester streets, South Boston. Several were positive that they could identify the man who struck McDonough the blow resulting in his death.

Numerous witnesses testified to seeing the fight, seeing McDonough struck in the head and later lying in the street bleeding from wounds in the head. All, however, agreed that neither Kinsella nor Fitzgerald struck him.

Adeline Murphy of 59 Mercer street testified that she saw a well-dressed young man go up behind McDonough and strike him on the back of the head, knocking him senseless. She said she faced the assailant, telling him he ought to be ashamed of himself for hitting a man from the rear.

The witness was certain, however, that the man was neither of the defendants, and also that if she were to see the man, she could identify him positively.

WARSHIP PLANS STOLEN

Police and Detectives Hunt Thief

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Special agents of the department of justice, officers of the William J. Navy officials are inclined to minimize the importance of the losses.

ARREST OF WIFE ASKED

Sheriff Refuses to Take Action

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., May 14.—Clara Pierce Brokaw of New York, in jail here since Sunday on his wife's charge that he assaulted her with a skillet, yesterday appealed to the sheriff of El Paso to have Mrs. Brokaw taken from the train which is bearing her toward New York, together with the 8-year-old son of the couple.

The sheriff refused to attempt to intercept Mrs. Brokaw and informed the man that his wife had a perfect right to take her son "Buster" anywhere she pleased.

More than a year ago, Brokaw came to Colorado Springs with the boy. The incident, then heralded as a kidnapping, followed a series of domestic dif-

To you personally—
Read it!
Think it over!

Quoted from the New York Times:

To decide a bet, a peddler stood all day on the Strand in London about a month ago offering gold sovereigns ($4.86) for sixpence (12c.)

He was only able to sell four.

Of the thousands who passed, ninety-nine per cent. had sixpence but they were skeptical and afraid the sovereigns were counterfeits.

Only four men were clever enough to know a real sovereign from a counterfeit, and to take advantage of the opportunity, and buy.

Ask yourself if you know a real opportunity from a counterfeit.

Are you clever enough—have you enough self-confidence—to take advantage of the real opportunity?

WAGES IN HOPEDALE STABS 2 IN COURT ROOM KILLED BY MOTOR CAR

Strikers Tell Story to the Conciliation Board Knife by Girl Webster Bicyclist Hit by an Automobile

BOSTON, May 14.—Morrison I. Swift and Caleb P. Howard, with a committee comprising Italians, Finns and Greeks, representing the strikers at the works of the Draper company in Hopedale, accompanied by an interpreter, Mrs. Palmira Meroloni, were in conference with the board of conciliation and arbitration at the state house yesterday in reference to conditions at Hopedale.

The session lasted two hours and a half, the testimony of the former employees being given through the interpreter.

28-23 Avenue Pay

The committee reported that of many strikers who were questioned about their wages, a number placed their average pay at $3.25 a week. One with a wife and six children earned $2.63 a week. One who has worked eight years gave his weekly rate as about $10.15. A few cents over $3 was reported to be the weekly wage of a man supporting a wife and nine children, and he works 50 hours. Several others were named as receiving the same.

From $3 or $4 to $10 or $12 were the rates given by another group. "Thirteen dollars or $14 were the figures sometimes reached by some of these interviewed. Of several men receiving $1.75 daily, each has a family, one of five children, another of six. The last had worked six years for the company. Still another with a wife and five children is paid $1.20 a day. One who has been with the Drapers from four to five years gets $1.65 each day. A man with a wife and five children who has done service for the company 12 years, is given $1.60 a day. For the first years his income was $1.50. Another doing the same work is paid $1.75.

Pay Envelopes Shown

The following are the figures on a random collection of pay envelopes, each representing a week's work: $2.05, $2.08, $2.55, $2.08, $2.25, $2.75, $1.54, $2.21, $2.52, $1.41, $2.37, $2.74, $2.45, $2.25, $10.00, $2.63, $2.02, $10.24, $2.20, $2.57, $2.25, $2.54, and four days, $4.20.

One week a worker in 4 1/2 days, using six machines, piecework, earned $4.63.

The board declined to give out any statement other than to say that it will take into consideration all the testimony submitted by the committee or the workers and will next endeavor to hear from the other side.

EXTENSION OF FAIRMOUNT ST.

Proposition Taken Up at Municipal Council Meeting

Cost is Estimated at $5500—Parties Agree to Pay $2000

Order to Borrow $1500 For Police Cables Adopted

Heated Arguments Over Purchase of Oil and Unpaid Bills

At a meeting of the municipal council held yesterday the proposition to extend Fairmount street from Mansur street to Wyman street was taken up. The entire cost is estimated at $5500 and certain parties living in that vicinity have agreed to pay $2000 toward defraying land damage expenses, so that the net expense to the city will be $3500.

Mayor O'Donnell called to order at 2:25 o'clock. The first business before the board was a petition from the N. E. T. & Co. for pole locations in Cornell and Princeton streets. The mayor read a communication from Christina L. Hunter and James T. Tol, objecting to the erection of poles in front of their premises.

Mrs. W. H. Witham, of Cornell street, appeared in person and objected to the locations. The petition was withdrawn.

The Lowell Electric Light Corp. petitioned for a pole location in Tilden street between Moody street and Merrimack street, for the purpose of an arc light. Mr. S. Snow, representing the Wheeler heirs and the estate of M. E. Thompson, objected to the proposed location. He thought the pole should be placed on the opposite side of the street. The petition was referred to Commissioner Donnelly.

Petitions of the Lowell Electric Light corp. for pole locations in Bowers, Park, Moody and Riverside streets and Parkview avenue were read and referred.

The petition of H. R. Rice to keep store and use gasoline was granted.

For Police Cables

An order to borrow $1500 for the construction of police cables was read by the mayor. The order was adopted.

The petition of Larkin T. and Edward W. Trull that Raven road be laid out and accepted from Andover street to Mansfield street was read as was also the report of the commissioner of streets recommending it. An accompanying order was adopted.

An order to accept and lay out Mansfield street was adopted as was also an order for the laying out and acceptance of Stafford street.

Fairmount Street Extension

The mayor read the petition of William S. Southworth for the extension of Fairmount street from Mansur street to Wyman street. He also read an accompanying order and the matter will remain in the city clerk's office for the next seven days when it will come before the council again for action. The order provides for the payment, for land, of $2500 to Melvin C. Rogers, and $121.55 to Mr. Simpson. Certain persons have offered to pay the city the sum of $2000 toward the cost of acquiring the necessary land and the money has been deposited in a local bank. The total expense is estimated at $5500.

John Jacob Rogers and the Talbot heirs are owners of the land for the nominal sum of one cent.

Commissioner Brown suggested that the commissioner of streets could go ahead and do the work with his regular appropriation, but City Solicitor Hennessy said it came under the head of permanent improvements and would have to be done by special appropriation. A loan order for $5500 will be brought in at the next meeting.

Power for Prescott Mills

The Massachusetts Cotton mills, through its attorney, F. B. Dunbar, asked the municipal council to vote it the authority to suspend steam pipes from the bridge in East Merrimack street, from the Massachusetts to the Prescott mills, for the purpose of supplying steam from the new power plant of the Massachusetts to the Prescott, affording power for heating and lighting. Mr. Dunbar explained that the proposition would do away with the chimney in the Prescott mills and will assist very materially in abating the smoke nuisance.

The council voted the permission asked for.

Lawrence Street Sewer

A petition for the extension of the Lawrence street main sewer from Randolph street to the Concord river was referred to the commissioner of streets and highways.

F. W. Huntington was appointed a surveyor of brick, stone, wood, plastering, etc.

Street Railway Refuses

The mayor read a communication from the Bay State street railroad.

The communication was signed by Charles Williams and read as follows: "I hereby certify that at a meeting of the board of directors of the Bay State Street Railway Co., duly called according to the by-laws and held at its office in Boston, April 30, 1913, at which meeting a quorum was present, a vote of which the following is a true copy was passed by the unanimous vote of all the directors present:

Voted—That the company decline to accede to the request presented in the vote of the municipal council of the city of Lowell, to certain fares in force in Fall River for established fares at this time being prohibited by the present and increasing cost of maintaining and operating a railway and the special ticket in use in Fall River being the condition of an old location granted to the Gloucester street railway company of a character that would be today inconsistent with the established policy and laws of the state.

$31,000 for Bridges

An order to borrow $31,000 for painting, repainting and reconstruction of bridges was read. The bridges mentioned in the order include: Moody street, Alden street, Howard street, Woburn street, Newhall street, East Merrimack street, over the Concord river, Cambridge street, Moody street, over the canal, Market street, over the canal, Pawtucket bridge, Lawrence street, Lincoln street, and Plain street. The council voted to view the different bridges on Friday afternoon.

Pleasures Galore

There were fireworks galore when Commissioner Donnelly said he wished to purchase, through the purchasing agent's office, seven carloads of oil for use on various streets in the city.

Of these seven cars, three were to be of Bermudez asphalt, the specifications of which would be filed with the purchasing agent, and later the materials would be inspected by the inspector of milk and vinegar. Three other cars would be of Standard Oil company's heavy road blinder, and one car would be of Gulf Refining company's heavy road blinder. With all of them, specifications would be filed, and tests would be made by the inspector of milk and vinegar.

Mr. Brown at once arose and said: "I want you to ask for the oils you have named—your equals. I do not want the council to put itself on record as favoring these oils exclusively, against the hundreds of other oils on the market. To specify these oils precludes the possibility of any other manufacturer bidding."

Mr. Donnelly: "I have been all over this oil matter, and I have picked out these three kinds among all the others as the ones I have reason to believe are the best suited for the roads and streets here in Lowell. For the boulevard, I intend to use the Standard Oil company's oil. For that kind has been used there before. On Knapp avenue, I intend to use the oil of the Gulf Refining company, and on Gorham street from Congress street to the city line, I want to use the Bermudez asphalt. All makers of oil claim that their products are the best. I desire to give this thing all the publicity I can. I want to try out these oils, the ones which I believe to be the best. I will have tests made of them by the city's paid inspector of milk and vinegar."

Mr. Brown: "I shall take this matter to the council. I can't say if you go ahead as it now looks as if you will. This oil proposition is a two-edged sword. If any other makers have better oil than the ones you have named, then let them in to try and compete."

At this juncture Mr. Barrett asked that the purchasing agent be sent for. He also wanted Supt. Newell F. Putnam called in.

At 4:20 a recess of five minutes was taken.

Miss Mary McGrath, clerk in the office of the assessor, was called in by Mr. Brown to take stenographic notes of the proceedings.

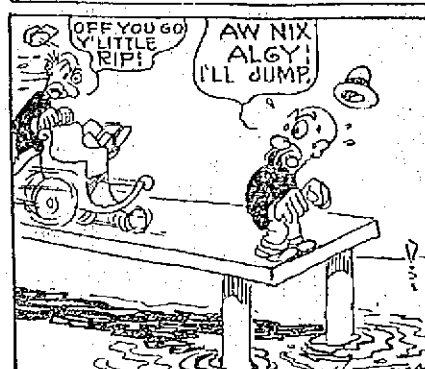

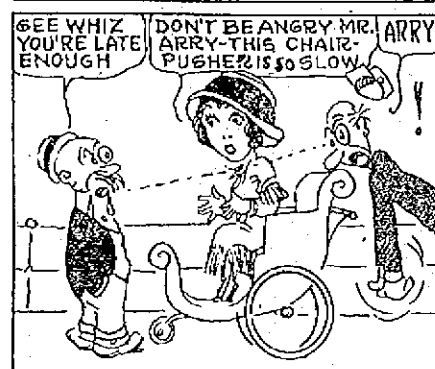

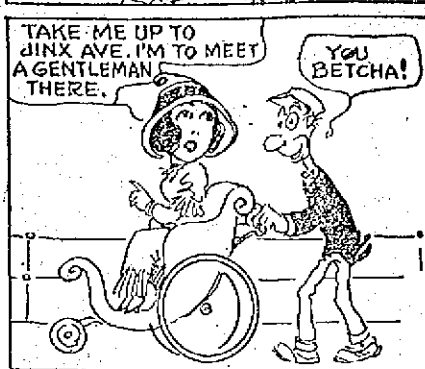

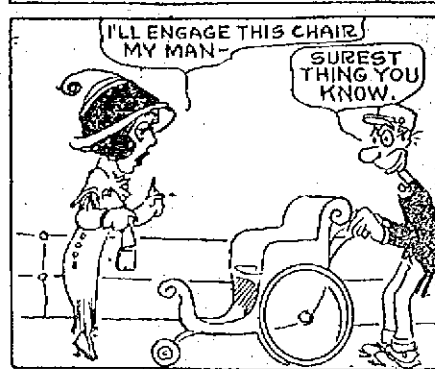

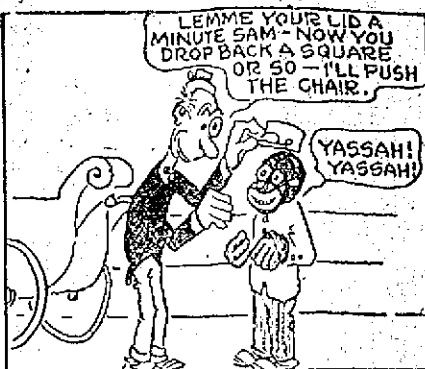

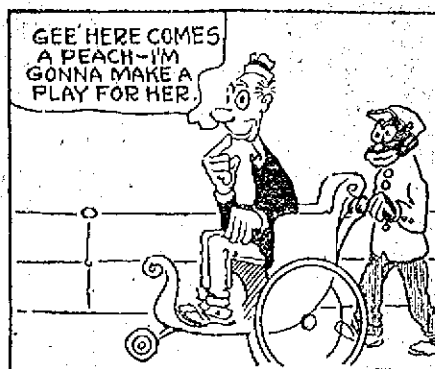

Upon the resumption of the meeting, Mr. Brown said: "A motion will have to be made to put this requisition through, following out section 27 of the city charter."

Mr. Barrett: "How many carloads of oil were purchased in 1912?"

Mr. Putnam: "Five cars: one of Texaco, one of Trinidad, one of Bermudez Asphalt and the rest of Texaco. The Texaco was part of one carload on hand. In 1913 there were only a small amount of oil purchased."

Mr. Brown: "The Bermudez asphalt was used in 1912 as a binder for the work on Westford street. When that was bought the matter was thoroughly discussed last year. Permission was granted to purchase it. Mr. Barrett at that time demanded to know the percentages of various things in the Bermudez asphalt."

Mr. Barrett: "Was any analysis

He Wouldn't Have Minded If It Had Been Anyone Else

made of the oils used last year?"

Mr. Brown: "There was a guarantee on the part of the company. If any fault had been found, then there would have been tests made."

Mr. Barrett: "What evidence had you that the company lived up to its guarantee?"

Mr. Brown: "I was head of the department of streets and highways. I had no doubt of it. That matter was up to the purchasing agent, anyway."

Mayor O'Donnell: "Mr. Donnelly, have you asked for Bermudez asphalt, this year?"

Mr. Donnelly: "Yes; three carloads of it, in barrels, to be tested by the inspector of milk and vinegar."

Mr. Brown: "The council should not put itself on record as specifying any brand. I want the purchasing agent to specify that Standard Oil, Bermudez, Gulf Refining or their equals will be bought."

Mayor O'Donnell: "Were bids for oil called for in 1912?"

Mr. Putnam: "Not to my knowledge."

Mr. Brown: "Say, were you purchasing agent in 1912?"

Mr. Putnam: "No; the question was addressed to me. I said, 'not to my knowledge.'"

Mr. Brown: "Why do you ask questions of this man? Why not ask them of the purchasing agent? Do you want to put yourselves on record as specifying certain oils? I think Putnam is interfering in this matter. He is interfering with another man's office, something he has no right to do."

Mayor O'Donnell: "I fully agree with you, Mr. Brown, that there ought to be competition. The point is the quality of the oil. I am interested to know of the procedure of last year in such a matter."

Mr. Foye was in the chamber at this time, and was questioned.

Mr. Foye was asked to read requisitions which he had. The first one read was dated June 12, 1912, and showed that 600 gallons of Bermudez oil had been purchased, the cost being $43.

Mr. Foye said he did not make out the requisition, but that it came from the office of the commissioner of streets and highways, and that Mr. Brown's name was signed to it.

Mr. Brown: "Did you use your own judgment in the purchase of oils, last year, Mr. Foye?"

Mr. Foye did not answer.

Mr. Barrett asked Mr. Foye to read other requisitions.

Before he got started Mayor O'Donnell asked: "Does it say anywhere in that requisition about 'or its equal'?"

Mr. Foye re-read the requisition. Nothing about "or its equal" appeared. Instead, he read: "According to talk with Mr. Morris of the Barber Asphalt Co."

Mr. Cummings moved that an amendment to the order be adopted that the three oils, originally named, "or their equals," be incorporated into the wording of the order.

Again, urged by Mr. Barrett, Mr. Foye read requisitions of 1912. On August 9 a car of Parva "X" in barrels was ordered, to cost 3 1/2 cents a gallon. This was signed "G. H. Brown."

On July 5 a tank car of Bermudez Asphalt was ordered. This was signed "G. H. Brown," he said. On May 24th a car of Bermudez asphalt oil was ordered. This was signed "G. H. Brown," he said.

Mr. Barrett: "Every requisition you received last year, for oil, Mr. Foye, was specified by Mr. Brown?"

Mr. Foye: "Yes, sir."

Mr. Barrett: "Statements have been made that, in 1911, you rejected my order that Pioneer oil be bought. Is that true?"

Mr. Foye: "No, sir."

The amendment was then read, to include "or its equals."

Solicitor Hennessy was asked by the mayor to give his idea of the powers of the council in the matter.

He said: "The purchasing agent cannot take from the head of a department his discretion in the matter of purchasing supplies."

A lively interchange ensued between Messrs. Hennessy, Brown and the mayor, following which Mr. Brown moved that Mr. Donnelly present a new requisition for oil, to the council.

Mayor O'Donnell: "I have thought this thing over and have absolute confidence in Mr. Donnelly. I move that he submit to the council his desires in the matter."

It was voted to allow Mr. Donnelly to buy the oil he had specified.

Unpaid Bills For 1912

The matter of unpaid street department bills for 1912 was taken up. Mr. Brown did not want the bills gone over until he would go through them. He moved that the council adjourn, so that it resolve itself into a committee on accounts. There was no second to the motion.

The first bill read was that of W. E. Dodge, and it was for 317 loads of gravel for the street department, at a cost of $42.55. This had the approval of Supt. Putnam and of Purchasing Agent Foye.

Mr. Brown objected to the bill being brought up.

Mr. Brown wanted the bills turned over to the auditor, that he might state what bills should and what should not be paid.

Mayor O'Donnell: "The auditor has no right to say what bills shall be paid."

Mr. Cummings wanted to put the bills over to a later day, as he had an engagement.

Mayor O'Donnell was opposed. "We will take up these bills," he said.

Mr. Brown advanced to the desk of the mayor, and with outstretched hands reached for a pack of the bills. The mayor quickly gathered up the bills.

"I want to see the bills," said Mr. Brown.

"No, you can't. I have no confidence in you," said the mayor.

A bill of the Boston Engineers Supply company for $352 was next read.

Mr. Barrett moved that all of the bills be approved, which had been proved with the signatures of Messrs. Foye, Putnam and Brown. It was so voted.

Adjourned at 5:15.

MAYOR OF CINCINNATI

Takes Firm Stand in

Trolley Strike

CINCINNATI, O., May 14.—Mayor Henry G. Hunt's decided stand in the car strike, which threatened to result in bloodshed, aroused both applause and criticism in street railway circles all over the country. The mayor demanded that the trouble be arbitrated.

He refused to grant police aid to the strikers, so that the cars could be run, but took the determined stand that if the company refused to arbitrate he would apply for a receiver for it or seek the annulment of the franchise.

MATRIMONIAL

A very pretty marriage was performed yesterday at St. Louis church, when Mr. Leopold Paquin and Miss Florida Price, two popular young people of this city were united in the bonds of matrimony. Edmund Price, father of the bride, and Arthur Ritchotte. The bride wore a handsome gown of white silk and carried bridal roses, which she was presented at the close of the ceremony by little Miss Della Thibault.

A wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, 20 Dalton street, where a large number of relatives congratulated the young couple. Among the guests were the following from out-of-town: Mr. Joseph Price of Pennacook, N. H.; Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Vien of Saco, N. H.; Mr. and Mrs. George Price of Saco, N. H.; Mrs. Elsie Martel of Saco, N. H.; and Miss Claire Price of Hoxsett, N. H.

U. S. SENATOR KENYON

Says Barter of Expert

Testimony is Disgrace

WASHINGTON, May 14.—United States Senator W. S. Kenyon, of Iowa, is on record in a speech before a gathering of physicians in Chicago, as stating that he would urge legislation to prevent the indiscriminate barter of medical expert testimony. He said the medical expert on the stand today was an imposition and often a disgrace to the medical profession. He said he would ask the American Bar Association to recommend to its affiliated organizations the enactment of laws in each state which would put an end to what he terms an evil practice. He said competent doctors ought to be paid by the courts to give testimony.

LOWELL COPS WON GAME

Defeated Somerville by

Score of 16 to 2.

The Lowell police baseball team easily defeated the team from Somerville yesterday in a long-drawn-out game that lasted just two hours, by the score of 16 to 2. The game was played on the South common and everything was in first class condition as Supt. of Parks Kenyon had just put the finishing touches on the diamond. This was the opening game in the Police league and a large number of fans was on hand when Umpire Ed Shea called the game. Bradley of Somerville umpired on the base line.

The all round playing of Outfielder Kelley of Lowell was one of the features of the game. Kelley accepted several difficult chances in the field and also hit the ball hard. Kenney, also of Lowell, had the honor of making the longest hit of the game when he drove the ball to deep centre for a homerun, sending two men in ahead of him. Manager Connors played first base the last two innings and drove in two runs in the eighth by a long hit to centre. Peters, the visitors' left fielder, made some difficult catches, while Fitzpatrick's stop of Drewett's grounder in the third inning would have been a credit to any big leaguer.

Maloney of the home team pitched a good game, allowing the visitors but six scattered hits. Crossman, who pitched for Somerville police, was hit hard and was relieved by Oesting in the sixth. Oesting pitched good ball until the eighth, when the Lowell batters landed on him and scored six runs. Somerville played poor ball throughout the game and during the nine innings no less than 13 errors were charged up to them. Although Lowell's rally in the third inning practically won the game the visiting rooters were confident till the last and showed a strong desire to win. The lineup was as follows:

BAD EFFECT ON WOMEN'S CAUSE

Hearing of Charges Against Suffragette Leaders Resumed in London Police Court

LONDON, May 14.—Striking evidence as to the extensive operations of the suffragettes engaged in the militant campaign and of the bad effect on the women's cause of the outrages committed by them was given during today's resumed hearing at four street police court of the charges against the suffragette leaders of infringement of the malicious damage to property act.

Those who occupied the prisoners' enclosure were Miss Harriet Rebecca Kerr, Miss Agnes Lake, Miss Rachel Barrett, Mrs. Beatrice Saunders, Miss Annie Kenney, Miss Laura Lennox and the chemist, Clayton. The case against "General" Drummond was postponed to July, owing to illness.

Testimony was given by letter carriers and postoffice officials as to the great damage done to the mails by chemicals and other fluids being poured into the public letter boxes.

The former business manager of the Suffragette gave evidence as to the responsibility of the various prisoners for the different departments of that newspaper. The witness explained that his services were dispensed with by the militant society, as Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst thought it was better that only women should conduct the paper.

The witness' evidence as to the loss of circulation by the Suffragette after militant acts had been committed was somewhat surprising. He said that at first 30,000 copies had been printed but the sales were only 12,000. The paid circulation then dropped to 7,500, but 30,000 copies were circulated in other ways. Just before last Christmas, he told Mrs. Pankhurst that this falling off was due to the letter box raids but the suffragette leader shrugged her shoulders and said that could not be possible, that when the women were most militant they were most successful.

A receiving order was made by the bankruptcy court today against Frederick Pethick Lawrence, a prominent and wealthy suffragist, who recently severed his connection with the militant suffragette society. The order was made on the application of the director of public prosecutions, because of Mr. Lawrence's refusal to pay the costs of the prosecution of himself and his wife and Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst when they were brought up at the Old Bailey sessions on a charge of conspiracy in May last year. The outstanding amount is $3000. The court appointed an official receiver to take charge of Mr. Lawrence's affairs, and thus he, although a wealthy man, will have to place his business affairs in the hands of this official until the government's claim has been settled. The application was heard privately. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence and a few of their friends were present but otherwise the public was excluded from the court in order to prevent a demonstration. A crowd of women, however, collected outside the entrance to the court, which was guarded by a strong force of police.

Mr. Lawrence, on leaving the court, remarked: "I am now a financial cipher but I am out for a fight in the public interest against a wholly unjust law which gives the executive the power to strike a blow at any man who sides with a revolt by charging him with the costs of his prosecution."

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Keith's Theatre
"It Happened in New York" is presented by John E. and George Gorman at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week.

Mr. Charles N. Saunders, a very able comedian, is cast in the part of "Humphrey Miggins," the business man who always stands ready to be fleeced. For an hour and twenty minutes, twice a day, he gets fleeced handsily by "Sylvester Beane" and "Chauncey Maginnis," interpreted by John E. and George Gorman. Ten sprightly dancing and singing girls appear at frequent intervals during the performance. Pippino, one of the very best players of the accordion, this city has ever known, gives classical and popular numbers with equal facility. Los Valdivia, a man and a woman, dispute on the stage in a manner which elicits applause, and Miss Retti Muriel, the Aviator Girl, takes a trip out over the heads of her audience. Ben. Harney, Co. of ragtime, is also on the bill.

Merrimack Square Theatre
Patrons contemplating a witnessing the great four act play "Satan," being given this week at the Merrimack Square theatre, had best secure their seats in advance as this far the standing room only sign has been hung out and seats for advance performances are going at a rapid rate. The play itself is good. It is admirably staged and acted and is giving entire satisfaction.

The latest photo-plays are also shown in connection, performances being continued from 1 to 10:30. Next week "Wildfire," the great race track play, will be the attraction. Seats on sale two weeks in advance.

The Casino

One of the smoothest surfaces in Massachusetts is to be found at the Casino on Theodoric street hill overlooking the picturesque South common. Here, to music tuneful, hundreds of dancers assemble every night and on Saturday afternoon, and pass many happy hours gliding through space. Don't lose sight of the very important fact that "Casino Standard" means something. The first dance is always by invitation.

JUMPS FROM FERRY BOAT

Beachmont Man Fails in Suicide Attempt

BOSTON, May 14.—John P. Nybert, 39, of 116 Endicott avenue, Beachmont, attempted suicide shortly after noon yesterday by jumping off the bow of the ferry boat Newton, of the Boston, Haverle and Lynn line, diving head first into the water when the boat was midway between the ferry slips.

The ferry was brought to a stop, and a boat lowered. Two deck hands pulled for Nybert, who could be seen with his head above water.

The ferryboat Brewster, on its trip to the Boston side, came up, and John Shlalehm, of South Boston, who was a passenger on the Brewster, dove overboard and swam to Nybert and held him up until a fishing boat came up and pulled both men into their boat.

Nybert was turned over to the police, where he was locked up in the East Boston station, where he was booked on the charge of drunkenness.

INSANE PATIENT KILLS ANOTHER

Murder Follows Threats At the Gardner Hospital

Victim Was Attacked By Maniac While In Bed

GARDNER, May 14.—Louis Cotey, an inmate of the state hospital for insane at East Gardner, who attacked and killed John Myles, another patient just before noon yesterday, was about to be transferred to some other institution for the criminal insane because of his threats made to another patient and to the doctors of the institution.

Wanted to Work

Cotey had been locked up in his room for some time because of an assault committed by him on a patient in January. This first assault by Cotey consisted of taking up a checkerboard and hitting the patient on the head, cutting it.

Cotey was ordered upstairs into another ward and secluded. He was kept in his own room, away from the other patient whom he had assaulted and against whom he seemed to have a grudge. Yesterday morning he had quieted down and asked to be allowed to come out of his room and help work about the ward with two attendants, W. A. Bean and Roy Mead, and several patients.

In the work of scrubbing the floors of the dormitory, a device like an ordinary scrubbing brush is used, at the end of a mop handle, and it also has on one side of it a piece of rubber, which acts as a sort of squeegee. With one of these Cotey struck Myles over the head four times, killing him.

The victim was in bed in a room of the dormitory. He was suffering from a form of paralysis and was unable to help himself in any way. Just before noon all the patients helping the attendants, with the exception of Cotey, were allowed to go outdoors. The attendants went downstairs to get dinner for Cotey and Myles, and were gone but a few minutes.

On their return to the dormitory they were met inside the door by Cotey who said to the attendants: "Give me John Myles' dinner as well as my own today. He won't need it."

Says He "Was No Good"

The attendants asked him why and the answer Cotey gave them was: "Unless you've got strong stomachs, don't go in there. I've killed him. He was no good, anyway. He wouldn't do any work. I was going to do it some time ago, but made up my mind to give him another chance."

ANSWER MURDER TRIAL

Deslovers Must Stand Trial—Case Assigned

PROVIDENCE, May 14.—Henri Deslovers, accused slayer of Miss Angèle Parmentier, of Woonsocket, was not freed yesterday. He must stand trial on a charge of beheading his housekeeper.

After arguments between Asst. Atty. Gen. Capote and Eugene L. Jolbert, Hon. John J. Fitzgerald and Atty. Gen. Herbert A. Rice, Judge Rathbun of the superior court sustained the state's demurrer to the defendant's plea and denied the motion to quash the indictment.

The case is now assigned for trial next Monday, upon the second indictment charging the defendant with the murder of Miss Parmentier. Counsel for the state and for the defendant each hotly protested that the delay in getting this case before a jury was due to the other side.

"Outrageous conduct" on the part of the defense caused the delay, according to the attorney general, while Mr. Fitzgerald came back with the charge that the arguments advanced by the prosecution would make a "joke of the constitution, the laws and the courts."

Mr. Jolbert opened the argument with a brief recital of the case.

"The only time we objected a trial," he said, "was when we wanted time to take depositions in Europe."

"The reason you gave me," retorted Mr. Rice, "was because you wanted to go to New Hampshire to get married."

"It isn't so."

"It is so."

"Counsel will make their arguments brief," warned Judge Rathbun, and the heated language ceased.

SULPHOLAC combines the benefits of sulphur, with a highly prized germ destroyer. These ingredients make it a skin remedy of extraordinary value.

Easy to work into the scalp, readily taken up by the skin, this "velvety-smooth-cream" gets to the seat of the trouble. Even in stubborn, aggravated cases, SULPHOLAC brings the scalp back to health, keeps it clean, soft and moist, stops falling hair, and stimulates a good strong growth.

SALISBURY RESERVATION

Whether the result of the Lowell protest in the legislature against including this city in the Salisbury beach reservation be ultimately favorable or unfavorable, it cannot be said that our representatives in the upper or lower house have neglected their duty. They have protested against the measure with vigor and unanimity, and in doing so they have spoken for the city as a whole, and fully explained the very positive reasons why Lowell has little interest in the reservation and so strongly resents being included in it contrary to the manifest desire of most of her people.

It must be apparent to all reflective people, whether in or out of the legislature, that Lowell would not so vigorously protest against anything which looks like a public improvement, were there not good and valid reasons for so doing. So often have these reasons been publicly advanced that a repetition of them is scarcely necessary, and yet as enumerated by Senators Fisher and Draper on Monday, they came home to us with renewed force. This reservation would be no benefit to our people. Because of its geographical position and the impractical railroad service it could not be availed of by those whom it is meant to benefit. The very legality of the measure is before the courts. It is but natural, of course, that Lawrence and Haverhill should favor it, and resent our desire for exclusion, but Lowell's attitude is prompted by justice and approved by common sense. If we are included against our will the people of this city will regard the legislative action as an abuse of power which should not be possible in Massachusetts.

Whether we are successful in our fight for exclusion or not, this city will have learned a valuable lesson from the experience—the lesson of the old proverb, "Look before you leap." A year ago when the bill was framed the outlook was rosy; there was no prospect of expense or taxation to the city; the proposed reservation had all the earmarks of a genuine proposition, and Lowell, not fully realizing the import of the measure, was indifferent. If the splendid energy which we have so recently shown towards righting the wrongs were shown at the beginning, we should have been saved much trouble and inconvenience. The wide discussion which it has called forth, however, will have some good effect, and it may be confidently predicted that Lowell will be ready for the next "won't you walk into my parlor" invitation—as promising as that which the spider extended to the fly, and as disastrous eventually.

GOOD CROPS

Whatever changes come over the prosperity of a country because of legislation affecting the great industries, the failure or success of crops is a much more important consideration and has a far more direct result on general business as a potent factor for good or evil. So engrossed are we of cities become in the affairs of trade and the ways of finance that we sometimes forget that American industrial success depends more at the present time on the prospect of the western wheat crop than on imminent tariff revision.

Such, however, is the case, and it is encouraging, therefore, to find that there are splendid prospects for great crops this year, although the predictions of experts may seem premature to the average individual. The Boston Herald in a recent market review dwelt on this fact and, referring to the pessimism of some people who do not love the prospect of tariff changes, compared it to that of the farmer who on being complimented on his splendid crop said: "Yes, there's so darn good, I'd afraid it's going to kill me to move them."

Pessimistic utterances regarding the business outlook at the present time are to be taken at their face value. Even at a time of the greatest prosperity there were instances of individual failure, and such would now occur even if the last election had meant defeat for the democratic party with its tariff revision. At the present time such individual failures will be seized by opponents of the government and blazoned forth as an example of what will become general in a few months. As a contrast to this pessimism we can look at the prosperity and security that now prevail throughout the country and the assurance that comes from a promise of good crops.

It is not surprising, in view of the fact that the returns from the land are of such importance to the country, that the farmer has figured so prominently in recent national and state legislation. The government is aroused as never before to his importance in the economic order, and its interest must bring about a broad and comprehensive public agitation that will result in greater efficiency for the future.

AUTOMOBILE SPEEDING

This is the season when "the grim reaper, death," invests in a racing car and speeds along the summer boulevards after the reckless driver who races along regardless of the shadowy pursuer with his scythe. Scarcely a Monday morning edition of a newspaper issued which does not give harrowing details of a car which turned turtle, one that plunged over an embankment, one that collided with a tree at a turn of the road or crashed into another coming from the opposite direction. Not all of these are due to recklessness, but far too frequently is the story of death and injury brought to a close by the phrase, "reckless driving."

Now, if automobilists would only realize that reckless driving is just as reprehensible when there is no accident as when it ends in a fatality, the death toll from this source would be much lessened. It has been long recognized that people have to be protected from themselves, and there is no stronger illustration of this than the case of the victim of speed mania. The habit begins innocently enough. The driver finds a certain exhilaration in the mad rush; he gets more and more daring; for a while fortune favors him. But sooner or later he will race without reckoning on the wet road, the weak axle, the damaged gear. Under the exacting strain some part of the overtaxed machinery may snap with the usual result of newspaper headlines and expressions of sympathy regret.

The law can do little to check automobile speeding as most of it is done in stretches of country roads and boulevards where it is impossible for the authorities to exert constant supervision. Reform must come therefore by an appeal to the reason of those responsible. If the driver who wishes to indulge in a race would only look behind and see the grim visage of his shadowy pursuer, he would most probably change his tactics. The automobile racer races with death, and death is eventually the winner.

YOUNG TOUGHS

The local police are to be congratulated on the number of recent arrests which had for their object the ring-leaders of gangs in different sections of the city. In breaking up such groups, the city authorities will prevent much future crime and they will remove the temptation that attracts many youths of weak character and leads them to follow the bad example set by the bands of young toughs who infest all large cities.

"Young toughs" is a phrase more forceful than elegant, but it is peculiarly descriptive of the type of individual which is found loitering around the street corners and parks of the darker sections of the city. These bands of idlers are usually noisy and profane and they do not confine their abusive remarks to their own circle but insult people who are passing, by coarse and personal jests. They encourage dissipation and idleness by word and example, and the unfortunate young man who gets under their influence has been given a fair start on the road that leads to ruin and disgrace. All who are interested in public morals and the good name of the city will commend the local authorities in their efforts to end this abuse.

BEACHEY QUILTS

Although the news that Beachey, the daring and spectacular aviator, has given up the hazardous game of aerial flight, may momentarily wake regrets at his determination, a brief study of his published reasons for so doing will convince one that the good of his example will more than offset the loss to aviation as a science. He declares that he gives it up because his influence has been a power for evil in firing the blood of many impetuous youths with the desire for air conquest which has resulted in their death.

When the first announcement of the successful flight of the heavier-than-air machines was made, the world was filled with admiration, and science predicted their speedy development. These predictions have not been fulfilled. That the machines have not yet scarcely passed the experimental stage is too well demonstrated by the terrible toll of lives which is being paid the world over for the mastery of the air. All nations have sacrificed some of their bravest and best, and the world is now asking if the result justifies the loss. It is very questionable if the gains to aviation offset the terrible sacrifice.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The Literary Standard

Christian Science Monitor: Much of the sacred scientific literature of the day is unfit to be admitted into decent families. It should be excluded. If parents do not know what to shut out, they should seek advice; if the advice is not easily available, communities that place a proper valuation upon their children will provide it. If the nation is once aroused to this situation as it should be, we believe some other problems that are knocking loudly at the doors of society can be dealt with more speedily and more effectively.

The Pierce Statue
Worcester Post: Both houses of the New Hampshire legislature have now agreed upon the bill to erect a $15,000 statue of Franklin Pierce, the only president the Granite State has given to the country. The action ends an unseemly controversy that has extended through a generation. Pierce cannot rank among our greatest presidents, and he went far wrong on issues that developed out of the slavery controversy, especially as regards Kansas. But he was a man of real, though erring, patriotism in times when few men saw entirely straight, a highly attractive personality and of exceptional executive capacity. He was the only president we have had who was able to hold a cabinet together unchanged throughout his term.

Burlington Free Press: The right will come to its own however slowly. Years ago the British empire did a wrong for money. For the sake of the Indian opium trade, the British government imposed the opium scourge upon China and forever frustrated China's attempts to rid herself of the curse. At last Great Britain has decided to stop the export of Indian opium to China, though this right act will mean the loss of $55,000,000 a year in revenue.

Recreation
Haverhill Gazette: One of the encouraging signs of the times for the broadening of the spirit of the Saturday half-holiday. There can be no question as to its recreative value if the time be properly used, and perhaps the best way to promote a proper habit in this respect is to make a regular allowance of time. More and more our workers are learning the value of recreational life and are turning their vacation hours to better account. Less and less vacation proposals are subject to the old sneer that a man never really needs a holiday so much as the day after he has had one.

EDUCATION NOTES

Three-fourths of the teachers in Alabama are holding their first position. Only seven per cent. of the teachers now employed have taught more than two years.

CONVICTION OF JOHNSON

Forerunner of Laws Forbidding Miscegenation

SAYS ASSISTANT UNITED STATES DIST. ATTY. PARKIN

"Verdict Will Go Around the World," He Said, "and We May Live to See Laws Forbidding Intermarriage."

CHICAGO, May 14.—That the conviction of Jack Johnson, negro prize fighter, last night for violation of the Mann act against traffic in women, will be the forerunner of laws forbidding miscegenation, was the assertion today of Assistant United States District Attorney Parkin, who conducted the case for the government.

"This verdict will go around the world," he said. "It is the forerunner of laws to be passed in the United States which we may live to see—laws forbidding miscegenation. This negro, in the eyes of many, has been persecuted. Perhaps as an individual he was, but his misfortune is to be the forerunner of the evil in permitting the intermarriage of whites and blacks. He has violated the law. Now it is his function to teach others the law must be respected."

In his instructions to the jury, United States District Judge Carpenter emphasized the fact that the character of the prosecuting witness must not be considered.

"The fact that the prosecuting witness is a discarded mistress, an abandoned woman, does not affect the issue in this case," the court said. "We have had many unfortunate people here in this case—trainers, fighting camp hangers-on, and women of the underworld—but because of their status in life their evidence must not be disregarded. It is as much an offense under the Mann act to transport a hardened woman as an innocent girl. It is not necessary that a person accused of violating the act shall receive a profit through transportation of a woman."

EXAMINED SOILED MONEY

Bills Found Singularly Free From Germs

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Those who have hesitated to amass wealth because of the warning to "Beware of the billions of bacteria that lurk in every bill," need hesitate no longer, according to Dr. W. C. Rucker, assistant surgeon general of the public health service. He declared today that tests and examination of currency, both washed and unwashed bills, showed them to be singularly free from germs. He attributed this to the ink used in printing the bills, which he said had proved to be almost a perfect germicide.

"The public health service was called upon to examine the soiled money returned to the treasury," said Dr. Rucker, "after it had traveled around the country and had passed through the hands of thousands of persons. To our surprise it was found to be singularly free from bacteria and the ink used in the bills is given the credit."

The ingredients used in the government ink are not made public, the recipe for the manufacture of the ink for the bureau of engraving and printing being jealously guarded.

RAMON BLANCHART AND OTHER ARTISTS GIVE OPERATIC CONCERT

The Affair Was Held at Colonial Hall and Was a Real Treat For Music Lovers

A delightful operatic concert was given at Colonial hall last evening by Commandator Ramon Blanchart, baritone of the Boston Opera house, and a member of the faculty of the New England Conservatory of Music. The affair was a real treat for music lovers, but unfortunately the attendance could have been much larger. However, the artist and his assistants were given a warm reception and their work was greatly appreciated.

Mr. Olin Downes, the Boston music critic, added much to the enjoyment by giving, briefly before each part of the program an exposition of the various numbers, thus, as it were, setting the concert stage for the musical scenes that were to follow.

Mr. Blanchart was greatly assisted by Ethel Frank Brigham, soprano; Briminda Blanchart, mezzo soprano; and Mary Shaw Swain, accompanist. The numbers given were as follows:

Prologue (Paghia).....Leoncavallo
Ramon Blanchart.
Voi che sapete (Nozz di Figaro).....Mozart
Mama non Mamma.....Mascagni
Briminda Blanchart.
Chanson de la Fille du Paria.....Debussy
Ethel Frank Brigham.

Aprile.....Tosti
Ella m'aimait tant.....Tosti
Ramon Blanchart.

La ci darem la mano (Don Giovanni).....Mozart
Ethel Frank Brigham and Ramon Blanchart.

Habanera (Carmen).....Bizet
Ponso.....Bizet
Briminda Blanchart.

Eri tu (Ballo in Maschera).....Verdi
Ramon Blanchart.

Rondo (Lucia).....Donizetti
Ethel Frank Brigham.

Toreador (Carmen).....Bizet
Goodbye.....Tosti

Mr. Blanchart was given a fine opportunity to demonstrate the qualities of his rich voice, and his work was magnificent, especially in his first number which he rendered with fine declamatory power. Miss Blanchart is possessed of a very fine soprano voice of very smooth quality, especially rich in the lower tones. Her numbers were given with ease and precision and her singing was remarkably well done. Miss Brigham is also a talented singer and her first visit to Lowell was a real success. The three artists were also heard to advantage in a trio which closed with tremendous applause. Miss Swain as an accompanist is a clever musician and her work throughout the program was beyond reproach.

The patronesses of the soiree were the following well known ladies: Mrs. Julian Talbot, Mrs. George F. Richardson, Mrs. Marietta Jefferson, Mrs. M. P. H. Robbins, Mrs. J. V. Moore, Mrs. T. E. Parker, Mrs. Arthur Spaulding, Mrs. Albert Bachelder, Mrs. George H. Pillsbury, Mrs. G. H. Spaulding, Mrs. Fred Buttrick, Mrs. Frederick Gahay, Mrs. Percy Parker, Mrs. Walter Parker, Mrs. Jude Wadleigh, Mrs. Frederick Church, Mrs. James Kirwin, Mrs. John Henry Abbin, Mrs. Peter Conant, Mrs. Geo. Harriman, Mrs. Frederick Farham, Mrs. Charles Williams, Mrs. F. D. Hall, Mrs. Thomas Ramsey, Mrs. Chester Smith, Mrs. John Washburn, Mrs. Walter Coburn.

STUDENTS FIGHT FLAMES

Powder Point School Destroyed by Fire

DUNBURY, May 14.—Powder Point hall, which housed 50 students of the exclusive Powder Point school, was destroyed by fire last night.

The hundred students of the school fought the flames with the local hand tub companies, but their efforts were futile, and before midnight the famous school and hostelry were in ashes. So quick was the spread of the flames that, after the students had tried to extinguish the fire starting in the southeast corner, they turned their entire attention to getting out personal effects.

Only a part of these were rescued, although several narrow escapes were recorded by the more venturesome students, who heaved the blazing structure in an effort to save what they could of their effects.

The loss is estimated at $50,000. A $300 last night, Donald B. Sleeper, a student, with a lantern in the eastern end of the big building, noticed a flicker of flame on the piazza roof where the electric wires entered the building.

His timely discovery of the fire and call to the students without doubt averted a catastrophe. Many of the students were shed at the time.

Sleeper and a few companions were the only ones near the start of the fire. There he aroused, and the boys went out on the roof and shortly extinguished the blaze at that point.

PILOTS BURNING STEAMER

Captain Stuck to Post and Saves Crew

KINEO, Me., May 14.—Sticking to his post in the wheel house, Captain C. J. Robinson piloted the burning steamer Katahdin from the middle of Moosehead Lake to the shore near East Outlet yesterday, saving the lives of 10 men of the crew.

The Katahdin, one of the Coburn Steamboat company's fleet, caught fire while towing a raft of logs. Her upper works were soon a mass of flames, which drove the crew to the bow of the craft.

All on board managed to reach shore in safety. The steamer was burned to the water's edge.

NO WAR, SAYS BRYAN

Secretary of State is Confident

NEW YORK, May 14.—The New York Times printed yesterday a special dispatch from Washington saying that Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan made a rather significant speech at the banquet in honor of the visiting British, Canadian and Australian delegates of the American conference arranging for the centennial celebration of the Treaty of Ghent.

He told the diners, that there would be no war while he was secretary of state, and that he never would have accepted the portfolio of the premiership if he had thought for one moment that there would be war during his incumbency of the office.

The dinner was given at the New Willard by the Carnegie Peace Foundation. Senator Elihu Root of New York presided and made an eloquent speech. Others responding to toasts were Andrew Carnegie, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador to the United States, and Lord Weardale.

But the interest of those present centered upon that portion of Secretary Bryan's speech, in which he said:

"I made up my mind before I accepted the office of the secretaryship of State that I would not take the office of Philadelphia.

If I thought there was to be a war during my tenure.

"When I say this I am confident that I shall have no cause to change my state, and that we know no cause today that cannot be settled better by reason than by war."

"I believe there will be no war while I am secretary of state, and I believe there will be no war so long as I live. I hope we have seen the last great war."

THE LOWELL GENERAL HOSPITAL DEACON LANGLEY 86 YEARS OLD

Trustees Held Annual Meeting— Dr. F. G. Martin Succeeds the Late F. B. Shedd

The trustees of the Lowell General hospital held their annual meeting yesterday afternoon in the directors' room of the Union National bank. The reports of the year were read and a trustee was elected to succeed the late Freeman B. Shedd, Dr. G. Forrest Martin being the unanimous choice.

The reports showed that 1265 patients were admitted during the year ending May 1, and 2178 and 1265 during the year. The expenditures were $41,433, while the receipts from operations were about $20,000. The hospital has invested funds to the amount of $352,266.21 with an income derived therefrom of $15,037.02.

The meeting was presided over by Vice President Arthur G. Pollard, and after the election of Dr. G. Forrest Martin it was announced that the board of trustees is now composed of the following: Jacob Rogers, president; Arthur G. Pollard, vice president; John P. Sawyer, treasurer; Larkin T. Trull, Charles Runnels, Walter L. Parker, Frank E. Dunbar, George S. Moseley, Amasa Pratt, Frank K. Stenard, Dr. Charles H. Stowell, Dr. Moses G. Parker, David T. Barker, William T. Sheppard and Dr. G. Forrest Martin.

The first report to be heard was that of the executive and house committees which was given by Dr. Stowell.

The following report from the superintendent, from May 1, 1912, to May 1, 1913, will give something of an idea of the extent of the work:

Patients admitted	1265
Largest number any one day	71
Smallest number any one day	32
Births	129
Deaths	65
Operations	605
Rate of Mortality	5.1 per cent
Receipts from paying patients	$20,501.85

Attention is called to the fact that this report is from May 1, 1912, and not the calendar year, which is the fiscal year, as reported by the treasurer.

The statistics of the hospital show that about one-half of all the work is of a charitable nature; that is, the receipts from paying patients are not sufficient to pay about one-half of the expenses of the hospital. If this were our only source of income, we would certainly be in a most lamentable condition. But the income from our endowment is very generous, as the treasurer's report shows. Hence, we are able to maintain a hospital of the highest grade and meet our obligations.

The following gifts and legacies were received during 1912:

Frederick F. Ayer	$5,000.00
Elizabeth D. Hanson	13.00
Estate of Charles E. Adams	11,347.44
Estate of Herbert N. Wilson	$5,000.00
Estate of Henry J. Conant	100.00
and Helen E. Gowan, in payment of our share in a trust created under the will of Caroline M. Cooper	535.23
Total	$25,915.17

The hospital is interested under wills.

DR. G. FORREST MARTIN

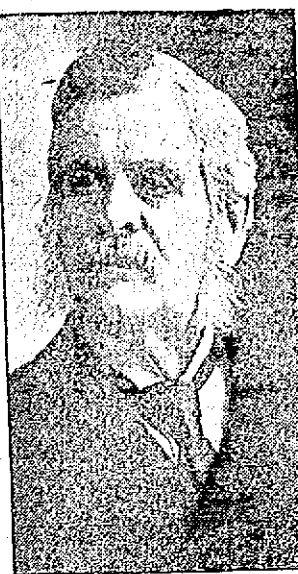

Sawyer, trustee.
Freeman B. Shedd, Mary Belle Shedd, executrix.
John W. Fletcher, Charles L. Knapp, executrix.
The receipts for the year were $62,358.20, all of which was paid out except a balance of $1,391.94.
Amount of trust funds, $352,266.21; total income, $15,037.02.
Larkin T. Trull, chairman of the committee on grounds, advocated the expenditure of between $5000 and $10,000 for the development of the land on which the hospital stands. He urged the erection of a most modern barn and the purchase of 30 or 40 cows, and proposed the hospital should raise all the milk necessary for its use. He also offered some plans for beautifying the grounds which will be worked out later.

Supper in His Honor at First Universalist Church

A double observance was held last evening at the First Universalist church vestry in the form of the annual church roll call and the 86th anniversary of the birth of Deacon Clark M. Langley. There was a bounteous supper in charge of Mrs. Bertha Beaharrell and assistants, Rev. Dr. Fisher called the gathering to order and gave a brief address on the importance of the event and its significance. The membership of the church is 228 and during the pastorate of Mr. Fisher 188 have joined the church. He then introduced Deacon Langley who spoke briefly in appreciation of the spirit shown by the members and their tribute to him. There were several others who spoke, always touching upon the growth of the church and in commendations of the work of the pastor and in these speeches, Deacon Langley was never forgotten.

Called upon a second time, the old man dwelt remissively upon the events of the past years and his words were very interesting to all. Dr. Fisher, principal of the Sunday school, spoke and in the course of his address expressed himself as proud to be connected with the Universalist church.

At the conclusion of the roll call, the pastor of the church, Rev. C. E. Fisher, called upon a second time, the old man dwelt remissively upon the events of the past years and his words were very interesting to all. Dr. Fisher, principal of the Sunday school, spoke and in the course of his address expressed himself as proud to be connected with the Universalist church.

DEACON CLARK M. LANGLEY

D. D. presented Deacon Langley 86 emblems. The exercises were concluded with the reciting in unison by the gathering of the Lord's prayer.

SIXTEEN INCH TROUT TRIAL OF JULIUS WELLS

Taken in the Merrimack River This Forenoon
State's Attorney Makes Closing Argument

As fair a trout as ever disported itself in a Maine brook was taken in the Merrimack river near the mouth of Beaver brook, a little distance below the Textile school, this forenoon, by Patrick Kelly of 19 Stanley street, Centralville.

It was the largest trout caught in these parts in recent years and Mr. Kelly is receiving the congratulations of his friends and all true lovers of the sport. The speckled beauty measured 16 inches and weighed 2 1/2 pounds. The trout was on exhibition in the window of Harry Gonzales' store in Gorbani street until 3 o'clock this afternoon. Harry is the fish warden for these parts, and what he doesn't know about fish isn't worth knowing. Harry says that the trout in question is the finest specimen ever taken in these parts. The specimen was taken in the vernacular of the "downhome" fishermen, a "square tail" and is perfect in every way.

Big Loss by Forest Fires

Alleged Smuggling Frauds
BOSTON, May 14.—The investigation into alleged smuggling frauds at this port probably will end today. Assistant United States District Attorney Francis J. Connelley announced that the inquiry would be concluded for the present at least with the testimony of three more witnesses. Four persons testified yesterday when the investigation was resumed after an adjournment of nearly a month. The grand jury returned indictments against four persons at its first sitting.

State Regulation of Marriage
NEW YORK, May 14.—State regulation of marriage was advocated in the report of the committee on families as presented today by Mrs. William Grant Brown at the fourth New York city conference on charities and corrections.

"To keep together a family wherein there exists the evidence of a mental defective strain," Mrs. Brown reported, "is to commit a serious offense against the state, for with mathematical precision it is handed down from one generation to the other. However, when the conditions in the home are good it is equally harmful to break up a family. Here the state has a function to perform. In the near future let us hope we shall follow the trail already blazed by some of our western states and legally restrain the marriage of the mentally deficient, delinquent or tainted by hereditary disease or crime."

CURRENCY LEGISLATION

Pres. Wilson Will Hold Conference

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Conferences between President Wilson, leaders in the house and senate and other advisers on currency legislation will be held at the White House probably early next week after Majority Leader Underwood has decided upon the personnel of the house banking and currency committee. House leaders are eager to see the draft of the bill being prepared. It is understood the bill does not provide for a guarantee of bank deposits which William J. Bryan has favored and may contain some other provisions not in accord with Mr. Bryan's views as expressed in some of his public speeches. House leaders are awaiting with a great deal of interest his attitude. An asset currency to be issued through the banks is one of the provisions contemplated.

BAZAAR WAS SUCCESSFUL

Over $3,000 Paid on St. Louis' Church Debt Through Efforts of Rev. Fr. Bedard

Rev. L. C. Bedard, curate at St. Louis' church, who was in charge of the recent bazaar held in the parochial school for the benefit of the church, is much satisfied with the result of the sale bazaar, and told the writer today that $3,745.53 went toward extinguishing the parish debt. He said under the circumstances in which the bazaar was conducted the receipts were far greater than he expected.

The bazaar was to be held at a much earlier date, but on account of the scarlet fever epidemic which broke out in this city the affair was postponed to a later date, and accordingly was not quite as successful as was anticipated. However the members of the parish got together and greatly helped in making the event a very successful one.

The total receipts of the bazaar including whistles and socials given prior to the main event, was $4,465.74. Of this amount the sum of $1,272.21 was realized by the whistles and socials while Miss Marie S. Mainier, who conducted a contest, contributed the sum of $244.69. The receipts of the bazaar proper were $2,948.83.

The expenses during the bazaar amounted to $655.58, thus leaving a total of $2,713.95, which was utilized in wiping out a part of the church debt. The success of the bazaar is greatly due to Rev. Fr. Bedard and his assistants, which consisted of officers of the different church societies.

TO DISSOLVE STEEL CORPORATION

President Farrell Continues His Testimony as Witness for Defense at Hearing Today

NEW YORK, May 14.—James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation, continued his testimony today as a witness for the defense in hearings for the government suit to dissolve the corporation as an illegal combination. It was his third consecutive day on the stand. Questioned by C. A. Severance, attorney for the corporation, Mr. Farrell gave testimony purporting to show that the National Tube Co., a subsidiary, is not a monopolistic combination as alleged by the government. He said the company's production of tubular goods was now only 37 per cent. of the country's entire production and that at the time it was taken over it was not in competition with any other subsidiary except in the manufacture of Steel sheets, of which its production was not sufficient to affect the market. He added that the company is in competition with German manufacturers who ship seamless tubes here in face of a duty of one cent a pound.

Taking up the American Steel and Steel Plate Co., another subsidiary, Mr. Farrell said that at the time it was taken over "it had some very large competitors." Its production in 1901 was 60 per cent. of the country's total. He testified, but this had been reduced to 35 per cent. in the last year. The production of its competitors had been growing, Mr. Farrell explained. The company was in competition abroad with British manufacturers and was the only tin plate concern in this country that did an export trade.

Mr. Farrell gave testimony along similar lines in defense of the Ameri-

BOSTON, May 14.—Local boards of health in towns about Canton and Norton where tonsillitis has been prevalent during the past week were urged today by the state board of health to take unusual precautionary measures regarding milk supplies and the handling of suspected cases of the disease. It was recommended that for the present all milk used in these towns be boiled and that the receptacles be sterilized. It was also suggested that cases of tonsillitis be subjected to the same quarantine regulations as in diphtheria. It is believed that the spread of the disease in Canton and Norton has been completely checked.

Washington and New York were dropped and it was decided to go along with six clubs but yesterday only a few people were on hand for the games and this discouraged all connected with the league and they quit. Nineteen players are stranded here.

Chairman

The near-new park commission organized last night with Harvey B. Greene as chairman. It was referred to as the "near-new" board because of the fact that two of its members, Dr. Rodrigue Mignault and John H. Mills were recently elected to succeed John J. Pickman and Thales P. Hall. It was the first meeting of the new members and Mr. Greene's election as chairman was unanimous. Mr. Greene's name was put in nomination by Mr. Carr. Mr. Carr said that because of his ten years' service on the board, his general experience and devotion to park and playground work, that Mr. Greene was eminently fitted for the chairmanship of the board and this sentiment was voiced by the other members. Mr. Greene was not a candidate for the position and accepted, he said, with more or less reluctance because it meant a considerable sacrifice of time, but if by accepting the position he could help along the park and playground work he would feel well repaid for any loss of time or other inconvenience that he might experience.

To the board, as newly organized, Mr. Greene reiterated the words of Judge Pickman relative to the treatment to be accorded the superintendent by the board members. He said that it was to the superintendent that the commissioners and other citizens would have to look for results and in order for the superintendent to do his best work it would be necessary for him to have full control. The main point to be emphasized by Mr. Greene had to do with the hiring of help. In this, he said, the superintendent must be given free rein. No member of the board should attempt to put men to work. The superintendent must have the hiring and the firing.

Mr. Carr called attention to the fact that he was, not a lone tree, but a lone member on the committee on trees and he said he wanted company. On motion of Mr. Mignault, Dr. Mignault was appointed a member of the tree committee. This is an important committee and Dr. Mignault, who is a great lover of trees, said he appreciated the fact. The doctor gave a very interesting little talk on trees and stated that they meant a great deal to the health of the city.

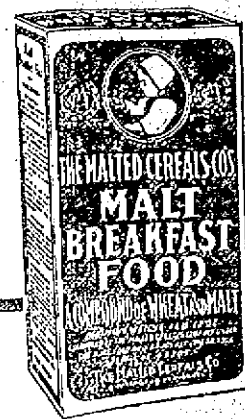

Mr. Greene thought that the members of the commission should be kept better informed as to the workings of the department by the superintendent, what work had been done, what was being done and what was contemplated for the future. Monthly reports containing such information might be furnished by the superintendent, he thought, and in this way, the members might be better informed in a general way than they have in the past.

Mr. Mills wanted to know why the moth commission was a separate and distinct department from the park commission. It was explained by the members and superintendent that many of the incidentals and work done by the moth commission were being paid for by the park commission and it seemed to be the opinion of all that something be done in the immediate future to see to it that the moth commission pay for what they got.

Mr. Carr suggested an increase in pay for the superintendent of parks. No action was taken.

Supt. Kernan submitted a report urging better police service on the parks and commons, and it was voted to recommend the hiring of daily police protection for the South common as proposed by the superintendent and to have some of the employees of the department sworn in as special officers to serve on Fort Hill park and possibly in the North common.

It was voted to recommend to the mayor and the council the appropriation of $3000 for work needed on sidewalks not only on both commons but on Fort Hill park.

City Engineer Kearney sent in a communication asking the commission what might be done with a small plot of land at the junction of Corham and Carlsile streets. Mr. Mills and the superintendent were appointed to confer with the engineer and find out definitely what the cost might be, and other details necessary, and report at the next meeting.

Commissioner Carr presented his $20,000 proposition for general park improvements, which included a sanitary station and a wading pool, as well as a handstand and other improvements on the South common. After discussing it at some length, it was voted to have Mr. Carr make inquiry of the city solicitor as to the legality of placing a permanent structure on the common, and what department might be looked to for the purpose of maintaining it in the future, should it be voted.

The superintendent was authorized to hire a horse walt such time as the department provides a means of conveyance.

REMOVING HIS BAGGAGE

With Board Bill Unpaid
Brought Man to Court

Charles Ayard was in police court this morning charged with removing baggage from his erstwhile boarding-house at 301 Moody street, while he still owed a board bill to its proprietor. He pleaded not guilty to the complaint. The proprietor was called to the witness stand and told the court that the defendant owed him $112 and that last Friday night he had removed his possessions from his house without saying aye, yes or no as to when he intended to square up his board bill. The defendant when he took the witness stand told Judge Pickman, who presided at the session, that he owed the complainant about eighty dollars and that he had taken his belongings as accused. All of his property, however, did not total up very large, the main article being a suit of clothes which defendant said he had pawned in a shop on Merrimack street. The case was continued in order to look up the present whereabouts of the missing suit.

George E. Brown pleaded guilty to a complaint charging him with the non-support of his wife and minor children. The superintendent of the state institution at Tewksbury testified that the defendant's wife was at the infirmary in Tewksbury and that the defendant had been written to and interviewed personally with regard to paying for his family's maintenance but nothing had ever materialized in the way of payments. Brown, he said, was a confirmed drunkard and his money was spent for liquor as fast as he got it. Judge Pickman ordered him to the house of correction for a period of four months.

Matthew D. Doyle received a sentence of two months in jail for his third appearance for drunkenness within a year. Thomas P. O'Malley appealed his sentence of one month in jail for the same offense. Blanche Dunn was given a suspended sentence of one month in jail for drunkenness. Her husband appeared and testified against her. Margaret G. Anderson was fined $8 for her second arrest for drunkenness. There were also two occupants of today's dock who received the first offender's fine of $5 for being picked up in a drunken condition.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH

Discussed Matter of Tubercular Beef

At a meeting of the board of health yesterday afternoon the question of tubercular beef was taken up with Inspector Hamblet. Dr. Hamblet told of his discovery of a fore-quarter of tubercular beef. He was satisfied, he said, that the man who bought the beef did not know it was diseased. The inspector did not know where the other three-quarters went. The quarter taken by him bore the stamp of the Chelmsford Inspector. He said there are three men bringing cattle into Lowell who are not doing business in the proper way. He said that these men have no slaughter house of their own and that they have been driven out of Dracut and Tewksbury. The inspector was instructed to gather all the information possible relative to the beef in question and it was the sense of the meeting that the matter should be taken to the courts. Dr. Carroll said there could be no procedure more dangerous than the sale of diseased beef.

The board received complaints about piggeries in Lincoln street and it was voted to inspect the premises. The board also received a communication having to do with the American Hide & Leather Co., the writer complaining that the company had not laid a sewer across the Concord river as it had agreed to do.

The revised rules and regulations of the board were adopted. The board voted to take a view Thursday morning and the places to be visited will include the piggeries in Lincoln street and premises where permits for stables have been asked.

BEFORE WAR OF 1912

Case Up Before International Tribunal

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Theron Ridd, when he absconded with $5000 less $132, awarded to a British shipowner for the seizure of his vessel on the great lakes two weeks before the outbreak of the war of 1912 not only impoverished the United States district court of New York, of which he was clerk, but also started a controversy that has existed since. The case now has come up before the international tribunal for the settlement of pecuniary claims which is in session here. Henry James Bothuno of Canada is the claimant. He is the heir of the shipowner and he has pressed his claim under many administrations and before many congresses. Its legality never was seriously questioned but for some reason or other the legislation necessary to meet it always has failed. The $5000 minus $132, plus six per cent. compound interest since 1912, more than a century, reaches a handsome amount.

"Just how much is it?" a British member of the tribunal was asked. "My word!" he ejaculated tearing at a bit of scrap paper on which he had jotted a small army of figures, "don't ask me. But it makes a bally good bill."

A verdict and a check it is expected, will be won by Mr. Bothuno.

IF YOU FLIRTED WITH DEATH, WOULD YOU SMILE LIKE LIESAW DOES?

INDIANAPOLIS, May 14.—What do devil pilots who will give death to you think of William J. Liesaw and his speed smile? He's one of the daredevil pilots in the 500 mile auto race at Indianapolis on Memorial day. They call him "Billy," and he's as mad as a March hare when it comes to beating the other fellow at punching holes in the atmosphere with his racing car. If you were going to risk your life would you smile like "Billy"? He's been following the racing game since 1906. He started out with a smile, and he's smiling yet. He is now at Indianapolis tuning up for the big spin.

UNPAID STREET BILLS APPROVED BY COUNCIL

These Are Bills That Should Have Been Paid Last Year and Now Special Loan is Required

The municipal council met this forenoon to resume its consideration of the unpaid bills of the street department for 1912, a portion of the bills having been taken up at yesterday's meeting.

Persons owed by the city have been after the commissioners in an endeavor to have them hasten payments of the bills and in some cases, it is stated, suits were threatened.

Commissioner Brown, who had charge of streets and highways in 1912, objected to the bills being read by the mayor, giving as his reason that the matter of the commissioner of streets and highways for 1912 having expired his appropriation was now before the district attorney. "I want to save my lights. I will be tried by a jury of my peers, and not by this council," he said.

The mayor proceeded to read the bills, and the first was a bill for $823.34 for granite blocks used on East Merrimack street and supplied by the H. O'Brien Granite Co. of Boston.

"I want my rights saved in this matter and I do not propose to vote on any of these bills," said Mr. Brown.

Mayor—Did you say this is not a correct bill?

Brown—No, I do not propose to be cross-examined. The council should go into a committee of accounts to consider these bills.

The mayor has addressed a communication to the district attorney calling his attention to the fact that as commissioner of streets, he exceeded his appropriation in 1912. These unpaid bills have been apportioned for the last five months and this procedure here today looks as if it were a move to bring out evidence against me. This is a delicate matter.

Mayor—You misapprehend the whole situation. The only question is as to whether or not these bills are correct. All we ask you to do is to say if these are correct bills. Isn't that fair?

Mr. Brown then asked City Auditor Paige relative to the unpaid bills, calling particular attention to the light bill amounting to $11,827.78. Mr. Brown said he was not allowed any appropriation for the lighting bill and was not responsible for the bill being unpaid.

The mayor said he was willing to have the council resolve itself into a committee on accounts, but no motion was made to that effect, and the mayor proceeded to read the bills.

Mr. Brown objected on the ground that to read the bills would be to "agitate" them.

"It is not agitating, it is identifying," said the mayor.

After reading the bills the mayor asked Mr. Brown if he would make a motion to approve them.

Mr. Brown said he did not dispute the bills but would not move their approval.

Commissioner Barrett moved that the bills be approved and Commissioner Cummings seconded the motion. It was so voted. Mr. Brown not voting.

The mayor then took up the bills disputed by Mr. Brown.

Last Year's Bills

The unpaid bills for 1912 as acknowledged by Mr. Brown amounted to $11,599.53, and the amount of the bills disputed by him was $13,355. These bills, of course, do not include the lighting bill, for which he had no appropriation.

A bill covering Supt. Putnam's expenses to a good roads convention and amounting to $97.15, was not disputed by Mr. Brown, but he thought in view of the fact that Mr. Putnam had gleaned information that would stand him in good stead this year, the bill might well be paid out of the street department appropriation for this year.

The mayor said that a bill contracted last year could not be paid for out of any regular appropriation for 1913.

Contagious Disease Hospital

Mayor O'Donnell took occasion to call the municipal council's attention to the great need of a contagious disease hospital and said the selection of a site would be the first step.

"Do you feel, gentlemen, that we ought to have a contagious hospital? Of course the law makes it mandatory," said the mayor, and a few minutes later two of the members were trying to make a trade on desks.

Mr. Cummings asked about the bill of the Adams Furniture Co. for the furniture installed in the office of the commissioner of streets in 1912 and for which no payment has been made.

Mr. Cummings said he wanted to get a desk, and he wondered if he could take the desk that had been purchased from the Adams Furniture Co.

"You have a good desk in your office now," said Mr. Brown.

"I want a desk for one of the fire houses," said Mr. Cummings.

Mr. Brown said he had a desk in his office that he would like to trade for a better desk and he allowed his desk was good enough for a fire house.

This was as far as the trade went.

The following bills, undisputed by Mr. Brown, were approved by the council:

LOWELL INN CHANGES HANDS

MR. THOMAS F. HOBAN

The Lowell Inn, one of the oldest hostleries in Lowell, has changed hands. The new owner is Frank E. Harris of Belmont street, this city, and he made application this forenoon, for a transfer of the license. Mr. Harris will take possession about June 1.

Thomas F. Hoban has been proprietor and manager of the Lowell Inn for the past eighteen years and negotiations for the sale of the hotel have been going on for some time. Mr. Hoban is owner of the Richardson hotel and despite the fact that he had become attached to the Lowell Inn, having lived there for so many years, he decided to discontinue with the care of the hotel, after a vacation that may include a trip abroad. Mr. Hoban will take up his abode at the Richardson hotel.

"I have been here for so many years," said Mr. Hoban this morning, "that it was with considerable reluctance that I finally decided to sell out."

Sold by Thomas F. Hoban to Frank E. Harris
New Owner Will Make It a First Class Hotel
Mr. Hoban Has Done Business There for 18 Years

MR. FRANK E. HARRIS

I have been considering it for two or three years and when the man showed up with the money I allowed that he had bought something. I expect to turn the house over to Mr. Harris about June 1, and then I will take a vacation. With the exception of a day or two now and then I have not had a vacation in eighteen years and I feel now as if I could enjoy one.

As a young man Mr. Hoban worked in White's tannery and by hard work, perseverance and good management, he succeeded in getting money enough together to start in business for himself. He has been very successful as a hotel man. Mr. Hoban served in the city council as well as in the legislature and his friends are legion.

Mr. Harris, the new owner, is well known in this city. He is a keen business man and a hustler. He has been engaged in various enterprises in this city and of late has been more or less interested in real estate. He conducted the Harris restaurant at the corner of Central and Middlesex streets and later had a garage in Appleton street.

Asked, today, what changes, alterations or additions, if any, he intended to make in the Lowell Inn, Mr. Harris said: "I intend to renovate it and change it all over. It is my intention to make it the most modern hotel in the city. I think Lowell has no better location to offer for a hotel than that occupied by the Lowell Inn and the way is clear to make it a first class hotel." Mr. Harris said that the changes would include additional stories. It is perhaps passing strange to note that the Lowell Inn is falling into the hands of the namesake of its original owner. F. E. Harris had the hotel before Mr. Hoban took charge and Mr. Harris' initials are still on the safe in Mr. Hoban's room. The Lowell Inn is numbered 15-21 Central street and belongs to the Carlton estate.

LOWELL AND N. BEDFORD

Played at Spaulding Park This Afternoon

The New Bedford ball tossers, stick swingers, and base runners were the guests of the Lowell baseball club at Spaulding park this afternoon and the two teams crossed bats in a good game which was enjoyed by a fairly large gathering of fans. There were many of the fair sex present, and owing to the fact that it was ladies' day, they were allowed free admittance to the stands as well as to the grounds.

Another change was made in the lineup of the Lowell team in which Halstein and Smoyer were set further down the list. At the third sack for the visitors was Starr who opened the season with the Lowell team. He was given a round of applause by the Lowell friends as he took his position. Umpro O'Brien, who caused some feeling yesterday in the little mix-up, was the official again today and he called the game at three o'clock. The lineup:

| Lowell | New Bedford |
| Clemens, cf | cf, Griffith |
| DeGroat, rf | 2b, Connaughton |

Smoyer let Griffith's grounder get away from him and the runner was safe at first. Connaughton advanced him to second with a sacrifice on which he was put out by Smoyer to Halstein. Sweett was passed and Kennedy grounded out to Halstein, the Lowell first sacker making a neat stop of a hard hit ball. Briggs was hit by Smith, who was a little wild and Weedon fanned.

Clemens hit safely between third base and short stop and DeGroat advanced him by going out Spires to Briggs. Miller hit to center field, stole second and when Weedon threw to Connaughton, Clemens stole home for the first run. Magee hit to right field and when Griffith dropped the ball which had taken the first bound, Miller scored. Halstein hit an easy one to the pitcher and was fielded out to first while Monahan hit to Spires and was thrown out to Briggs.

Score—New Bedford 0, Lowell 2.

Starr walked and stole second and Spires fanned. Gibbs filed out to Monahan and Griffith slammed out a two-base hit scoring Starr. Connaughton filed out to Clemens.

Dea was put away by Gibbs to Briggs. Smoyer was safe on first on Connaughton's error. The New Bedford manager fumbling the grounder and when he threw wildly to first, Smoyer sped to second, the ball falling into the Lowell quarters. Smith hit through first base and Smoyer scored. Gibbs passed both Clemens and DeGroat and Miller got a two-bagger, scoring Smith and Clemens. DeGroat came home for another tally on a sacrifice fly by Monahan. Halstein was credited with a hit when the strong wind carried a fly away from Connaughton. Miller scored on the play. Monahan closed the inning when he hit a high one to be gathered in by Griffith.

PARK SUPERINTENDENT

Says Parks and Commons Should be Policed

The following report relative to the necessity of policing the parks and commons was submitted by the superintendent of parks at last night's meeting of the park commission:

Lowell, Mass., May 13th, 1913.
Park Commission,
Lowell, Mass.

Gentlemen:

I am not only gratified, but proud to report to you that the acts and actions of ninety per cent of those who have frequented the parks and commons during the last six weeks have not only reflected great credit upon themselves, but upon the city of Lowell as well. The behavior of the other ten per cent should be met with at least as harsh a rebuke as it deserves. It is perhaps passing strange to note that the Lowell Inn is falling into the hands of the namesake of its original owner. F. E. Harris had the hotel before Mr. Hoban took charge and Mr. Harris' initials are still on the safe in Mr. Hoban's room. The Lowell Inn is numbered 15-21 Central street and belongs to the Carlton estate.

Guatemala Acceded to Demands

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Private advices received here early today say President Estrada Cabrera of Guatemala has acceded to the demands of the British government for a settlement of the long standing British claims. The London foreign office recently issued an ultimatum to Cabrera giving him until tomorrow to settle and a British warship was put on the way to Puerto Barrios to emphasize the demand.

Prevent Hasty Marriages

HARTFORD, Conn., May 14.—A bill which aims to prevent hasty marriages in this state by non-residents was reported favorably to the legislature today. It places restrictions upon the issuance of marriage licenses, ordering that where neither of the applicants is a resident of the state, the license shall be held for five days and there shall be a hearing before a probate judge.

NEW COMFORT STATION

Complaint is Made That One of the Entrances is Too Near Bridge Street

There is always somebody to find fault and the very latest complaint has to do with the location of the men's entrance to the sanitary station in Paige street. The complainant, name unknown, alleges that the entrance to the station is too near Bridge street. This complaint, however, is not being taken seriously. The city engineer thinks that in two weeks' time the paving over the sanitary station will be commenced. The Lowell Electric Light corporation has been granted a permit to replace its conduits in Paige street, in order that the work of putting the street in proper shape may be expedited. The Lowell Gas Light Co. has already relaid its mains there, and the railway company is preparing to relay its track on the original locations.

THE FLETCHER WILL
Scheduled Hearing Will be Postponed
The hearing on the allowance of the will of the late John William Fletcher, who committed suicide in his elegantly furnished apartment in Boston several weeks ago, has met with another postponement. The hearing was to have been held in Cambridge, before Judge Lawton, tomorrow morning, but on account of the illness of one of the heirs-at-law, was made this afternoon and because of that fact it will be necessary to postpone the hearing. Mr. Mason lives in Norridge-week, Me., and will oppose the allowance of the will.
In several stories appearing in Boston papers concerning the will of the unfortunate patient, it has been stated that his wife would contest the will. John William Fletcher's wife died in New York City, Feb. 2, 1911, and was buried Feb. 14, in Bellevue cemetery, Lawrence. Boston papers take copy.

HEART EXPOSED 6 YEARS

The Death of Man Whose Case Was Unique

ST. JOHN, N. B., May 14.—The death of Joseph Carey in the General Public hospital here closed the career of one whose case has for six years been regarded as unique by the medical profession of the continent.

Carey underwent an operation in Boston half a dozen years ago for lung trouble, when Dr. Samuel Robinson removed part of the left lung. In order to do this several ribs had to be taken away, and the result of the operation while saving the man's life, was that his heart was left practically exposed. It was said that the beats of the heart could be plainly seen through the thin tissues that covered that organ, and the man was in great demand by physicians and surgeons who wished to study the action of the heart, while at the same time he was able to do his accustomed work in the body of a living man.

After the operation, Carey apparently regained his usual health and had been working in St. John during the four years since the operation. He contracted a heavy cold several days ago and was taken to the General Public hospital, but pneumonia developed.

COUNTERFEIT $5 BILL

Even Passed at the New York Subtreasury

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The dangerous counterfeit Indian head $5 silver certificate recently discovered continues in circulation, despite the vigilance of secret service and treasury officials.

The notes, which are almost perfect imitations of the genuine, are finding their way into banks and even the subtreasury at New York. Several are being passed weekly and the secret service operatives have redoubled their efforts to find the counterfeit.

The notes are printed on genuine paper obtained by washing $1 bills. Government officials believe that the maker of the notes is the same counterfeit who for months circulated bogus $1 bills in Boston, Philadelphia and other eastern cities.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER

Kinsella and Fitzgerald Were Discharged

BOSTON, May 14.—Thomas F. Kinsella and John V. Fitzgerald, both South Boston young men, were acquitted in the South Boston court yesterday on the charge of murder in causing the death of Michael McDonough.

Not one of the 11 witnesses for the prosecution could testify to having seen either Kinsella or Fitzgerald strike McDonough on the night of Saturday, May 3, during a general disturbance at the corner of West 2d and Dorchester streets, South Boston. Several were positive that they could identify the man who struck McDonough the blow resulting in his death.

Numerous witnesses testified to seeing the fight, seeing McDonough struck in the head and later lying in the street bleeding from wounds in the head. All, however, agreed that neither Kinsella nor Fitzgerald struck him.

Adeline Murphy of 50 Morcor street testified that she saw a well-dressed young man go up behind McDonough and strike him on the back of the head, knocking him senseless. She said she faced the assailant, telling him he ought to be ashamed of himself for hitting a man from the rear.

The witness was certain, however, that the man was neither of the defendants, and also that, if she were to see the man, she could identify him positively.

Police and Detectives Hunt Thief

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Special agents of the department of justice, officers of the William J. Navy officials are inclined to minimize the importance of the losses.

ARREST OF WIFE ASKED

Sheriff Refuses to Take Action

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., May 14.—Clarence Pierce Brokaw of New York, in jail here since Sunday on his wife's charge that he assaulted her with a skillet, yesterday appealed to the sheriff of El Paso to have Mrs. Brokaw taken from the train which is bearing her toward New York, together with the 3-year-old son of the couple.

The sheriff refused to attempt to intercept Mrs. Brokaw and informed the man that his wife had a perfect right to take her son "Buster" anywhere she pleased.

More than a year ago, Brokaw came to Colorado Springs with the boy. The incident, then heralded as a kidnapping, followed a series of domestic dif-

Think it over!

Quoted from the New York Times:

To decide a bet, a peddler stood all day on the Strand in London about a month ago offering gold sovereigns ($4.86) for sixpence (12c.)

He was only able to sell four.

Of the thousands who passed, ninety-nine per cent. had sixpence but they were skeptical and afraid the sovereigns were counterfeits.

Only four men were clever enough to know a real sovereign from a counterfeit, and to take advantage of the opportunity, and buy.

Ask yourself if you know a real opportunity from a counterfeit.

Are you clever enough—have you enough self-confidence—to take advantage of the real opportunity?

WAGES IN HOPEDALE STABS 2 IN COURT ROOM KILLED BY MOTOR CAR

Strikers Tell Story to the Conciliation Board Knife by Girl Webster Bicyclist Hit by an Automobile

BOSTON, May 14.—Morrison L. Swift and Caleb P. Howard, with a committee comprising Italians, Finns and Greeks, representing the strikers at the works of the Draper company in Hopedale, accompanied by an interpreter, Mrs. Palmira Meroloni, were in conference with the board of conciliation and arbitration at the state house yesterday in reference to conditions at Hopedale.

The session lasted two hours and a half, the testimony of the former employees being given through the interpreter.

$8.25 Average Pay

The committee reported that of many strikers who were questioned about their wages, a number placed their average pay at $8.25 a week. One with a wife and six children earned $2.62 a week. One who has worked eight years gave his weekly rate as about $10.18. A few cents over $9 was reported to be the weekly wage of a man supporting a wife and nine children, and he works 60 hours. Several others were named as receiving the same.

From $8 or $9 to $10 or $12 were the rates given by another group. Thirteen dollars or $14 were the figures sometimes reached by some of those interviewed. Of several men receiving $17.50 daily, each has a family, one of five children, another of six. The last had worked six years for the company. Still another with a wife and five children is paid $1.50 a day. One who has been with the Drapers from four to five years gets $1.65 each day. A man with a wife and five children who has done service for the company 12 years, is given $1.60 a day. For the first years his income was $1.50. Another doing the same work is paid $1.75.

Pay Envelopes Shown

The following are the figures on a random collection of pay envelopes, each representing a week's work: $2.05, $2.08, $2.58, $2.65, $2.75, $2.84, $2.81, $2.86, $3.11, $3.17, $3.74, $3.85, $3.25, $10.02, $3.65, $6.02, $10.21, $8.20, $8.57, $8.25, $8.84, and four days, $4.20.

One week a worker in 4½ days, using six machines, piecework, earned $4.50.

The board declined to give out any statement other than to say that it will take into consideration all the testimony submitted by the committee of the workers and will next endeavor to hear from the other side.

Says Barler of Expert Testimony is Disgrace

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Keith's Theatre
"It Happened in New York" is presented by John E. and George Gorman at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week. Mr. Charles N. Saunders, a very able comedian, is cast in the part of "Humphrey Mags," the business man who always stands ready to be felled. For an hour and twenty minutes, twice a day, he gets felled handsily by "Sylvester Beane" and "Chauncey Maginnis," interpreted by John E. and George Gorman. Ten sprightly dancing and singing girls appear at frequent intervals during the performance. Teppino, one of the very best players of the acrobatic class, has over, known, gives classical and popular numbers with equal facility. Los Valadous, a man and a woman, disport on the slack wire in a manner which elicits applause. Miss Flett Muriel, the "Vivator Girl," takes a trip out over the heads of her audience. Ben Harney & Co., ragtimeists, are also on the bill.

Merrimack Square Theatre
Patrons contemplating witnessing the great four act play "Sapho" being given this week at the Merrimack square theatre, had best secure their seats in advance as thus far the standing room only sign has been hung out and seats for advance performances are going at a rapid rate. The play itself is good. It is admirably staged and acted and is giving entire satisfaction.

The latest photo-plays are also shown in conjunction, performances being continuous from 1 to 10:30. Next week "Wildfire," the great race track play, will be the attraction. Seats on sale two weeks in advance.

JUMPS FROM FERRY BOAT

Beachmont Man Fails in Suicide Attempt

BOSTON, May 14.—John P. Nybert, 50, of 115 Endicott avenue, Beachmont, attempted suicide shortly after noon yesterday by jumping off the bow of the ferry boat Newton, of the Boston, Revere Beach and Lynn line, diving head first into the water when the boat was midway between the ferry slips.

The ferry was brought to a stop and a boat lowered. Two deck hands pulled for Nybert, who could be seen with his head above water.

The ferryboat Brewster, on its trip to the Boston side, came up, and John Shindlam of South Boston, who was a passenger on the Brewster, dove overboard and swam to Nybert and held him up until a fishing boat came up and pulled both men into their boat.

Nybert was turned over to the police, where he was locked up in the East Boston station, where he was booked on the charge of drunkenness.

Wanted to Work
Cotey had been locked up in his room for some time because of an assault committed by him on a patient in January. This first assault by Cotey consisted of taking up a checkerboard and hitting the patient on the head, cutting it.

Cotey was ordered upstairs into another ward and secluded. He was kept in his own room, away from the other patient whom he had assaulted and against whom he seemed to have a grudge. Yesterday morning he had quieted down and asked to be allowed to come out of his room and help work about the ward with two attendants, W. A. Bean and Roy Mead, and several patients.

In the work of scrubbing the floors of the dormitory, a device like an ordinary scrubbing brush is used, at the end of a mop handle, and it also has on one side of it a piece of rubber, which acts as a sort of squeegee. With one of these Cotey struck Miles over the head four times, killing him.

The victim was in bed in a room off the dormitory. He was suffering from a form of paralysis and was unable to help himself in any way. Just before noon all the patients helping the attendants, with the exception of Cotey, were allowed to go outdoors. The attendants went downstairs to get things for Cotey and Miles, and were gone but a few minutes.

On their return to the dormitory they were met inside the door by Cotey who said to the attendants: "Give me John Miles' dinner as well as my own today. He won't need it."

Says He "Was No Good"
The attendants asked him why and the answer Cotey gave them was: "Unless you've got strong stomachs, don't go in there. I've killed him. He was no good, anyway. He wouldn't do any work. I was going to do it some time ago, but made up my mind to give him another chance."

GARDNER, May 14.—Louis Cotey, an inmate of the state hospital for insane at East Gardner, who attacked and killed John Miles, another patient, just before noon yesterday, was about to be transferred to some other institution for the criminal insane because of his threats made to another patient and to the doctors of the institution.

ANSWER MURDER TRIAL

Deslivers Must Stand Trial—Case Assigned

PROVIDENCE, May 14.—Henri Deslivers, accused slayer of Miss Angela Parmentier of Woonsocket, was not freed yesterday. He must stand trial on a charge of beheading his housekeeper.

After arguments between Asst. Atty. Gen. Capotosto and Eugene L. Jalbert, Hon. John J. Fitzgerald and Atty. Gen. Herbert A. Rice, Judge Rathbun of the superior court sustained the state's demand to the defendant's plea and denied the motion to quash the indictment.

The case is now assigned for trial next Monday, upon the second indictment charging the defendant with the murder of Miss Parmentier. Counsel for the state and for the defendant each hotly protested that the delay in getting this case before a jury was due to the other side.

"Outrageous conduct" on the part of the defense caused the delay, according to the attorney general, while Mr. Fitzgerald came back with the charge that the arguments advanced by the prosecution would make a "joke of the constitution, the laws and the courts."

Mr. Jalbert opened the argument with a brief recapitulation of the case. "The only time we objected a trial," he said, "was because you wanted to take depositions in Europe."

"The reason you gave me," retorted Mr. Rice, "was because you wanted to go to New Hampshire to get married."

"It isn't so," "It is so," "It is not so," "Counsel will make their arguments brief," warned Judge Rathbun, and the heated language ceased.

Wanted to Work

Cotey had been locked up in his room for some time because of an assault committed by him on a patient in January. This first assault by Cotey consisted of taking up a checkerboard and hitting the patient on the head, cutting it.

Cotey was ordered upstairs into another ward and secluded. He was kept in his own room, away from the other patient whom he had assaulted and against whom he seemed to have a grudge. Yesterday morning he had quieted down and asked to be allowed to come out of his room and help work about the ward with two attendants, W. A. Bean and Roy Mead, and several patients.

In the work of scrubbing the floors of the dormitory, a device like an ordinary scrubbing brush is used, at the end of a mop handle, and it also has on one side of it a piece of rubber, which acts as a sort of squeegee. With one of these Cotey struck Miles over the head four times, killing him.

The victim was in bed in a room off the dormitory. He was suffering from a form of paralysis and was unable to help himself in any way. Just before noon all the patients helping the attendants, with the exception of Cotey, were allowed to go outdoors. The attendants went downstairs to get things for Cotey and Miles, and were gone but a few minutes.

On their return to the dormitory they were met inside the door by Cotey who said to the attendants: "Give me John Miles' dinner as well as my own today. He won't need it."

Says He "Was No Good"
The attendants asked him why and the answer Cotey gave them was: "Unless you've got strong stomachs, don't go in there. I've killed him. He was no good, anyway. He wouldn't do any work. I was going to do it some time ago, but made up my mind to give him another chance."

SALISBURY RESERVATION

Whether the result of the Lowell protest in the legislature against including this city in the Salisbury beach reservation be ultimately favorable or unfavorable, it cannot be said that our representatives in the upper or lower house have neglected their duty. They have protested against the measure with vigor and unanimity, and in doing so they have spoken for the city as a whole, and fully explained the very positive reasons why Lowell has little interest in the reservation and so strongly resents being included in it contrary to the manifest desire of most of her people.

It must be apparent to all reflective people, whether in or out of the legislature, that Lowell would not so vigorously protest against anything which looks like a public improvement, were there not good and valid reasons for so doing. So often have these reasons been publicly advanced that a repetition of them is scarcely necessary, and yet as enumerated by Senators Fisher and Draper on Monday, they came home to us with renewed force. This reservation would be no benefit to our people. Because of its geographical position and the impractical railroad service it could not be availed of by those whom it is meant to benefit. The very legality of the measure is before the courts. It is but natural, of course, that Lawrence and Haverhill should favor it, and resent our desire for exclusion, but Lowell's attitude is prompted by justice and approved by common sense. If we are included against our will the people of this city will regard the legislative action as an abuse of power which should not be possible in Massachusetts.

Whether we are successful in our fight for exclusion or not, this city will have learned a valuable lesson from the experience—the lesson of the old proverb, "Look before you leap." A year ago when the bill was framed the outlook was rosy; there was no prospect of expense or taxation to the city; the proposed reservation had all the earmarks of a genuine proposition, and Lowell, not fully realizing the import of the measure, was indifferent. If the splendid energy which we have so recently shown towards righting the wrong were shown at the beginning, we should have been saved much trouble and inconvenience. The wide discussion which it has called forth, however, will have some good effect, and it may be confidently predicted that Lowell will be ready for the next "won't you walk into my parlor" invitation—as promising as that which the spider extended to the fly, and as disastrous eventually.

GOOD CROPS

Whatever changes come over the prosperity of a country because of legislation affecting the great industries, the failure or success of crops is a much more important consideration and has a far more direct result on general business as a potent factor for good or evil. So engrossed do we of cities become in the affairs of trade and the ways of finance that we sometimes forget that American industrial success depends more at the present time on the prospect of the western wheat crop than on imminent tariff revision.

Such, however, is the case, and it is encouraging, therefore, to find that there are splendid prospects for great crops this year, although the predictions of experts may seem premature to the average individual. The Boston Herald in a recent market review dwelt on this fact and, referring to the pessimism of some people who do not love the prospect of tariff changes, compared it to that of the farmer who on being complimented on his splendid crop said: "Yes, they're so darn good, I'd afraid it's going to kill me to move them."

Pessimistic utterances regarding the business outlook at the present time are to be taken at their face value. Even at a time of the greatest prosperity there were instances of individual failure, and such would now occur even if the last election had meant defeat for the democratic party with its tariff revision. At the present time such individual failures will be seized by opponents of the government and blazoned forth as an example of what will become general in a few months. As a contrast to this pessimism we can look at the prosperity and security that now prevail throughout the country and the assurance that comes from a promise of good crops.

It is not surprising, in view of the fact that the returns from the land are of such importance to the country, that the farmer has figured so prominently in recent national and state legislation. The government is aroused as never before to his importance in the economic order, and its interest must bring about a broad and comprehensive public agitation that will result in greater efficiency for the future.

AUTOMOBILE SPEEDING

This is the season when "the grim reaper, death," invests in a racing car and speeds along the summer boulevards after the reckless driver who races along regardless of the shadowy pursuer with his scythe. Scarcely is a Monday morning edition of a newspaper issued which does not give harrowing details of a car which turned turtle, one that plunged over an embankment, one that collided with a tree at a turn of the road or crashed into another coming from the opposite direction. Not all of these are due to recklessness, but far too frequently is the story of death and injury brought to a close by the phrase, "reckless driving."

Now, if automobilists would only realize that reckless driving is just as reprehensible when there is no accident as when it ends in a fatality, the death toll from this source would be much lessened. It has been long recognized that people have to be protected from themselves, and there is no stronger illustration of this than the case of the victim of speed mania. The habit begins innocently enough. The driver finds a certain exhilaration in the mad rush; he gets more and more daring; for a while fortune favors him. But sooner or later he will race without reckoning on the wet road, the weak axle, the damaged gear. Under the exacting strain some part of the overtaxed machinery may snap with the usual result of newspaper headlines and expressions of sympathetic regret.

The law can do little to check automobile speeding as most of it is done in stretches of country roads and boulevards where it is impossible for the authorities to exert constant supervision. Reform must come therefore by an appeal to the reason of those responsible. If the driver who wishes to indulge in a race would only look behind and see the grim visage of his shadowy pursuer, he would most probably change his tactics. The automobile racer races with death, and death is eventually the winner.

YOUNG TOUGHS

The local police are to be congratulated on the number of recent arrests which had for their object the ring-leaders of gangs in different sections of the city. In breaking up such groups, the city authorities will prevent much future crime and they will remove the temptation that attracts many youths of weak character and leads them to follow the bad example set by the bands of young toughs who infest all large cities.

"Young toughs" is a phrase more forcible than elegant, but it is peculiarly descriptive of the type of individual which is found loitering around the street corners and parks of the darker sections of the city. These bands of idlers are usually noisy and profane and they do not confine their abusive remarks to their own circle but insult people who are passing, by coarse and personal jests. They encourage dissipation and idleness by word and example, and the unfortunate young man who gets under their influence has been given a fair start on the road that leads to ruin and disgrace. All who are interested in public morals and the good name of the city will commend the local authorities in their efforts to end this abuse.

BEACHEY QUITS

Although the news that Beachey, the daring and spectacular aviator, has given up the hazardous game of aerial flight, may momentarily wake regrets at his determination, a brief study of his published reasons for so doing will convince one that the good of his example will more than offset the loss to aviation as a science. He declares that he gives it up because his influence has been a power for evil in firing the blood of many impetuous youths with the desire for air conquest which has resulted in their death.

When the first announcement of the successful flight of the heavier-than-air machines was made, the world was filled with admiration, and science predicted their speedy development. These predictions have not been fulfilled. That the machines have not yet scarcely passed the experimental stage is too well demonstrated by the terrible toll of lives which is being paid the world over for the mastery of the air. All nations have sacrificed some of their bravest and best, and the world is now asking if the result justifies the loss. It is very questionable if the gains to aviation offset the terrible sacrifice.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The Literary Standard

Christian Science Monitor: Much of the so-called juvenile literature of the day is unfit to be admitted into decent families. It should be excluded. If parents do not know what to shut out, they should seek advice. If the advice is not easily available, communities that place a proper valuation upon their welfare will provide it. If the nation is once aroused to this situation as it should be, we believe some other problems that are knocking loudly at the doors of society can be dealt with more speedily and more effectively.

19 Fountain St., Orange, Mass.—"My daughter was suffering from a rash on her face. At first I thought it was caused by her feeding but later discovered it was eczema. Her face looked red and scaly and as it itched and burned so badly she scratched and made sores. It was diagnosed for the time being. Her face was covered with scabs and blood where she had scratched it and I was obliged to have her wear mittens when she went to bed. "I tried a number of different remedies but these did not prove beneficial. After about three weeks Cuticura Soap and Ointment were recommended to me. I tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they afforded relief almost immediately. I bathed the parts affected with Cuticura Soap and applied the Cuticura Ointment at least at night and in the morning. I continued the treatment for two months, when she was completely cured and she has never since been troubled with the disease." (Signed) Mrs. H. P. Lamb, Oct. 7, 1912.

Escaped Membership Fall River Globe: Although President Mellen testified the other day that he, acting for the New Haven company, shipped $50,000 into the Rockport campaign fund in 1904, he has, strange to say, escaped being sentenced to membership for life in the Ananias club by a decree from Oyster Bay.

The Pierce Statue Worcester Post: Both houses of the New Hampshire legislature have now agreed upon the bill to erect a $15,000 statue of Franklin Pierce, the only president the Granite State has given to the country. The action ends an unseemly controversy that has extended through a generation. Pierce cannot rank among our greatest presidents, and he went far wrong on issues that developed out of the slavery controversy, especially as regards Kansas. But he was a man of real, though erring, patriotism in times when few men went entirely straight, a highly attractive personality and of exceptional executive capacity. He was the only president we have had who was able to hold a cabinet together unchanged throughout his term.

Right Will Come Burlington Free Press: The right will come to its own however slowly. Years ago the British empire did a wrong for money. For the sake of the Indian opium trade, the British government imposed the opium scourge upon China and forcibly frustrated China's attempts to rid herself of the curse. At last Great Britain has decided to stop the export of Indian opium to China, though this rightful act will mean the loss of $55,000,000 a year in revenue.

Recreation Haverhill Gazette: One of the encouraging signs of the times for the breadwinners is the spread of the Saturday half-holiday. There can be no question as to its recreative value if the time be properly used; and perhaps the best way to promote a proper habit in this respect is to make a regular allowance of time. More and more our workers are learning the value of recreational life and are turning their vacation hours to better account. Less and less vacation proposals are subject to the old snore that a man never really needs a holiday so much as the day after he has had one.

FALL RIVER WON FROM LOWELL

Bill Cooney, Formerly of Lowell,
Big Factor in Victory—Score
Twelve to Five

Perhaps it was because of the threatening aspect of the weather an hour or so before the time for the game between Lowell and Fall River that the number of spectators at Spaulding park yesterday was small. Those who did go, however, were glad that they decided to be present for when the game was called at three o'clock the weather was fine for baseball.

There was quite a change in the lineup of the teams, especially that of the visitors whose batting order was almost completely shuffled. Weaver's whip served 'em up to the Fall River batters while Cooney, from his position on the mound, faced the Lowell hitters. DeGroff was back in his old place at right field. Umpire O'Brien called the game promptly at three o'clock.

First Inning
The first inning was devoid of scoring. Robinson for the visitors opening with a high one to Smoyer which the Lowell short stop easily smothered. Campbell then went out Miller to Halstein and Magee walked and stole second. Courtney retired the side by going out Miller to Halstein.

Clemens walked and Magee advanced him to second by sacrificing Campbell to McGovern. DeGroff walked and on Halstein's slow grounder to Cooney, both advanced. Halstein out, Cooney to McGovern. Miller closed the inning by flying out to Robinson.

Score: Lowell 0, Fall River 0.

Second Inning
Devine walked and Cooney hit to left field. Fisher hit to center field and Devine scored. Delaney was sent away by Dee to Halstein. Perkins hit to Dee who threw to Monahan and Cooney was doubled up between third and the plate. Monahan threw to Dee who snapped the ball to Weaver for a put out. Perkins safe on the fielder's choice. Robinson hit to Smoyer, who threw him out at Halstein.

Dee sent a Texas leaguer to short left field and stole second. Smoyer fled out to Fishburne and Monahan hit a safe one to short center field. The throw home was a bad one and Dee slid to the plate and was safe, bringing in Lowell's first run. Weaver fanned. Clemens walked and Magee hit to Campbell who threw to Fishburne, forcing out Clemens.

Score: Fall River 1, Lowell 1.

Third Inning
The third inning was a big scoring fest for the visitors and a bad one for the home team. Campbell walked and McGovern got a Texas leaguer to right field. Courtney hit to center field and Campbell scored. Devine went out, Dee to Halstein and the men on the bases advanced. Cooney got a short hit and the bags were filled. At this point Smith replaced Weaver. Fishburne hit to Dee, who threw to Monahan. Smith passed McGovern. Smith passed McGovern. Smith passed McGovern.

DeGroff strolled and Halstein fled out to Robinson. Miller slammed hit to a three base hit and brought home DeGroff. Dee hit the wind and Smoyer sent up a high one which landed safely in Robinson's glove.

Score: Fall River 5, Lowell 2.

Fourth Inning
In the fourth inning Roy Smith, Lowell's second batter of the game, went skyward and was replaced by Douglas Smith. Robinson put up a high one to DeGroff and then walked back to the bench. Campbell walked and was put away by Monahan to Smoyer in an attempt to steal. Roy Smith then handed free tickets to McGovern, Courtney and Devine and Douglas Smith was sent in to pitch. He fanned Cooney for the third out.

Monahan hunted along the third base line and it was a hit. Douglas Smith died away to Devine. Clemens had three strikes called on him without swinging once and Magee fled out to Courtney.

Score: Fall River 5, Lowell 2.

Fifth Inning
Fishburne put up a high one and Halstein made a beautiful catch. Delaney popped out to Miller. Perkins walked and Robinson fled out to Halstein.

DeGroff hit one to the fence which was good for three bags. The umpire, however, said that he did not touch first base and there was a big kick by Manager Gray. DeGroff and Monahan. Finally Gray, DeGroff and Monahan. DeGroff and Monahan. DeGroff and Monahan.

THREE BOUTS ON CARD O'BRIEN WON GAME

Good Program is Scheduled for Friday
Pitched the Red Sox to Victory in Detroit

Joe Ritchie, the clever South Boston boxer, who appeared here several times under the name of Young Jasper, will make his debut to Lowell fans as Ritchie at Friday night's meeting of the Acme A. C. The South Boston lad says Ritchie is his proper name and that he intends to stick to it. Friday night he will tackle Terry Brooks of New York, and Ritchie is confident that he will add another victory to his list. Brooks is in good shape and he feels that he will come out on the long end. This bout will be preceded by two other good numbers.

Young Snyder and Finney Boyle are scheduled for eight rounds, and Billy Brooks and Young Halghey will show in the opener. Young Snyder is just breaking away from the amateur ranks having won the international championship at his weight. Brooks will make his first appearance professionally. He is a brother of Gardner Brooks, who has performed a dozen times before Lowell crowds.

DIAMOND DAZZLES

Everybody up for our old rivals tomorrow! Lawrence will come to town with all the confidence in the world but a little batting by the local team will show them just where their ball club really stands with reference to the pennant. Go to it, Lowell!

Robinson had a great day in the field yesterday. The player is one of the cleverest outfielders that the fans have ever perform for many moons. Every day that he gathered in yesterday were labeled extra bases if they ever got away from him. He played all of Lowell's sluggers right, holding left. Groff at third base on the longest hit of the game simply because he was playing out of position in deep left for the Lowell rightfielder.

DeGroff very nearly fell over the first cushion on his hit that Umpire O'Brien called him out on. The umpire allowed that he did not touch first base. This decision-maker comes all the way from New York and from his actions today we opine that the West Side must be his home. He had all the appearances of a big city chap addressing a bunch of farmers when his decisions were questioned. Perhaps Mr. O'Brien may go back home presently!

Cooney made five hits for a total of six yesterday. Some batting for a pitcher, eh, what? That with his base running and the eight innings he had pitched Cooney was a pretty dinged ball player when the last session was reached. If the Lowell batters had not tried to hit the ball it is probable that more than two runs would have been scored in the ninth.

If Umpire O'Brien had made a decision in either Lawrence or Portland, the latter might have been called out. It is very doubtful if the fans would have stood for it. They like to see decent decisions handed out in the Maine city.

To Advance Freight Rates
WASHINGTON, May 14.—Eastern railroads took the first step toward an attempt to increase their freight rates when representatives of 52 lines east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and Potomac conferred today with the Interstate Commerce commission on a formal application to reopen the eastern advance case, which was decided against the railroads two years ago.

Santa Barbara Went Dry
SANTA BARBARA, Cal., May 14.—Santa Barbara practically went dry in yesterday's election. Saloons were eliminated and liquor selling in restaurants also was abolished. It still will be possible to procure liquor at a few places, however, as a proposition to prohibit public houses in hotels was defeated.

STATE CONVENTION OF K. OF C.

In Springfield—Wm. F. Thornton of Lowell Honored

SPRINGFIELD, May 14.—The political cauldron boiled furiously yesterday afternoon prior to the election of officers at the annual state convention of the Knights of Columbus, held in the Hotel Kimball in this city. Grand Knight Watson of Boston, past grand knight of Brighton council, won the battle for state deputy by a vote of 161 to 121 for James A. Ryan, his opponent of the same city. Although several cities sent attractive invitations for the knights to be their guests, the next convention will be held in Boston.

The friends of the two leading candidates for the principal offices were aligned in friendly factions, factiously dubbed the regulars, who favored Watson, and the insurgents, who supported Ryan. The insurgent engendered no hard feeling and on motion of the state deputy and other state officers were adopted.

Lowell Man Defeated
Springfield shared in the honors of the day by electing James H. Maloney for state auditor over Robert J. Thomas of Lowell. Re-electing James E. Horan of Gardner for the office of state advocate and choosing Michael A. Morrissey, district deputy of the Indian Orchard council and president of the Connecticut Valley chapter, as delegate to the National convention, which meets in Boston next August.

Several resolutions affecting the members of the order 60 years and over were rejected. All the recommendations contained in the report of the state deputy and other state officers were adopted.

The Officers Elected
The committee appointed by State Deputy Watson was as follows: Credentials—Dr. A. J. Flanagan of Springfield, chairman; M. H. Toomey of Westfield, P. H. Hogan of Lawrence, James A. Sullivan of Middleboro, Thomas Hickey of Waketfield, F. X. Cutler of Fall River; Thomas Kearns of Waltham; M. H. Doran of New Bedford.

The officers elected are as follows: Louis Watson of Boston, state deputy. Philip L. McMahon of Boston, state secretary. Henry E. Hagan of Boston, state treasurer. James H. Maloney of Springfield, state auditor. James E. Dunleavy of Springfield, state advocate. John S. Quinn of Boston, state war-

HOUSE IN AN UPROAR

Excitement at Springfield, Illinois

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 14.—The joint resolution submitting to the voters of the state the question of an amendment incorporating an initiative and referendum in the constitution which failed of passage in the house by one vote last night was to be taken up for reconsideration at 10 o'clock. The roll call last night showed the resolution had received 102 votes, the reported majority, but on the verification of the roll call, it was found that there had been an error had been made in recording him for the resolution. That he did not vote and did not wish to be recorded. This left the resolution one short of the constitutional majority. Before the vote was announced the speaker put a motion postponing further action on the measure and with the house in an uproar declared it carried. He then declared a motion to adjourn until 10 o'clock today. The resolution has passed the senate.

SPECIAL POLICE QUIT
Give Up Jobs at Buffalo, New York

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 14.—Thirty special policemen sworn in for duty in connection with the express wagon drivers' strike refused to take out their badges and clubs today. Seventy of them quit yesterday. The reasons given by the men for giving up their jobs were numerous. One man who did just one trick of duty came to headquarters with a discolored eye. His wife and her brothers, he said, were socialists and she hit him on the eye when he said he had gone to work as a policeman. He quit. Another young fellow said he had been expelled from a social club and none of the girls would dance with him if he did not throw up his job.

CONVICTION OF JOHNSON

Forerunner of Laws Forbidding Miscegenation

SAYS ASSISTANT UNITED STATES DIST. ATTY. PARKIN

"Verdict Will Go Around the World," He Said, "and We May Live to See Laws Forbidding Intermarriage."

CHICAGO, May 14.—That the conviction of Jack Johnson, negro prize fighter, last night for violation of the Mann act against traffic in women, will be the forerunner of laws forbidding intermarriage, was the assertion today of Assistant United States District Attorney Parkin, who conducted the case for the government.

"This verdict will go around the world," he said. "It is the forerunner of laws to be passed in the United States which we may live to see—laws forbidding miscegenation. This negro, in the eyes of many, has been persecuted. Perhaps as an individual he was. But his misfortune is to be the foremost example of the evil in permitting the intermarriage of whites and blacks. He has violated the law. Now it is his function to teach others the law must be respected."

In his instructions to the jury, United States District Judge Carpenter emphasized the fact that the character of the prosecuting witness must not be considered. "The fact that the prosecuting witness is a discarded mistress, an abandoned woman, does not affect the issue in this case," the court said. "We have had many unfortunate people here in this case—trainers, fighting camp hangers-on, and women of the underworld—but because of their status in life their evidence must not be disregarded. It is as much an offense under the Mann act to transport a hardened woman as an innocent girl. It is not necessary that a person accused of violating the act shall receive a profit through transportation of a woman."

Medford Residents Aroused By Act of Unidentified Man Who Made His Escape

BOSTON, May 14.—Medford is aroused over the attempt last night of an unidentified man to attack a maid employed at the household of Mrs. Herman L. Buss, 21 Royal street. The man is described as slim, about five feet, nine inches in height, and wore a cap. The Medford police are working on the theory that it is the same person who has committed many depredations in Malden during the last two weeks.

The maid had gone out to mail a letter for Mrs. Buss, just around the corner of Royal street. The road at this

BILLERICA

The selectmen held a meeting in the town hall last night and transacted all business that was left over from the previous meeting. Matters were discussed relative to a special town meeting which will be held in the near future. At the special meeting a report of the committee recently appointed with reference to the town farm will be read and an article calling for the appropriation of a sum of money for running expenses will also be considered. The matter of precinct voting at the annual town meeting will be discussed and it is possible that the voters will go back to the old plan which is to vote and take up the articles of the town warrant on the same day. EXAMINED SOILED MONEY

Bills Found Singularly Free From Germs

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Those who have hesitated to amass wealth because of the warning to "Beware of the billions of bacteria that lurk in every bill," need hesitate no longer, according to Dr. W. C. Rucker, assistant surgeon general of the public health service. He declared today that tests and examination of currency, both washed and unwashed bills, showed them to be singularly free from germs. He attributed this to the ink used in printing the bills, which he said had proved to be almost a perfect germicide.

"The public health service money returned to the treasury," said Dr. Rucker, "after it had traveled around the country and had passed through the hands of thousands of persons. To our surprise it was found to be singularly free from bacteria and the ink used in the bills is given the credit."

The ingredients used in the government ink are not made public, the recipe for the manufacture of the ink for the bureau of engraving and printing being jealously guarded.

RAMON BLANCHART

AND OTHER ARTISTS GIVE OPERATIC CONCERT

The Affair Was Held at Colonial Hall and Was a Real Treat For Music Lovers

A delightful operatic concert was given at Colonial hall last evening by Commandador Ramon Blanchart, baritone of the Boston Opera house, and a member of the faculty of the New England Conservatory of Music. The affair was a real treat for music lovers, but unfortunately the attendance could have been much larger. However, the artist and his assistants were given a warm reception and their work was greatly appreciated.

Mr. Olin Downes, the Boston music critic, added much to the enjoyment by giving briefly before each part of the program an exposition of the various numbers, thus, as it were, setting the concert stage for the musical scenes that were to follow.

Mr. Blanchart was greatly assisted by Ethel Frank Brigham, soprano, Berninda Blanchart, mezzo soprano and Mary Shaw Swain, accompanist. The numbers given were as follows:

Prologue (Pagliacci).....Leoncavallo

Ramon Blanchart, Mozart

Vol che sapete (Nozze di Figaro),

Mama mon Mama.....Mascagni

Evminde Blanchart,

Chanson de la Fille du Paria.....Delibes

Ethel Frank Brigham,

Aprile.....Tosti

Elle m'aime tant.....Tosti

Ramon Blanchart,

La ci darem la mano (Don Giovanni),

Mozart

Rhet Frank Brigham and Ramon

Blanchart,

Habanera (Carmen).....Bizet

Penso.....Bizet

Erminde Blanchart, Denza

Eri tu (Dalla in Maschera).....Verdi

Ramon Blanchart,

Rondo (Lucia).....Donizetti

Ethel Frank Brigham,

Toreador (Carmen).....Bizet

Goodbye.....Tosti

Mr. Blanchart was given a fine opportunity to demonstrate the qualities of his rich voice, and his work was magnificent, especially in his first number which he rendered with fine declamatory power. Miss Blanchart is possessed of a very fine soprano voice of very smooth quality, especially rich in the lower tones. Her numbers were given with ease and precision and her singing was remarkably well done. Miss Brigham is also a talented singer and her first visit to Lowell was a real success. The three artists were also heard to advantage in a trio which closed with tremendous applause. Miss Swain as an accompanist is a clever musician and her work throughout the program was beyond reproach.

The patronesses of the soiree were the following well known ladies: Mrs. Julian Talbot, Mrs. George F. Richardson, Mrs. Marietta Jefferson, Mrs. M. P. H. Robbins, Mrs. J. V. Meigs, Mrs. T. E. Parker, Mrs. Arthur Spaulding, Mrs. Albert Bachelder, Mrs. George H. Pillsbury, Mrs. G. H. Spalding, Mrs. Fred Buttrick, Mrs. Frederick Gabley, Mrs. Percy Parker, Mrs. Walter Parker, Mrs. Jude Wadleigh, Mrs. Frederick Church, Mrs. James Kirwin, Mrs. J. H. Henry, Mrs. J. M. Peter Condon, Mrs. Geo. Harrigan, Mrs. Frederick Farnham, Mrs. Charles Williams, Mrs. F. D. Hall, Mrs. Thomas Ramsey, Mrs. Chester Smith, Mrs. John Washburn, Mrs. Walter Coburn.

But the interest of those present centered upon that portion of Secretary Bryan's speech, in which he said:

"I made up my mind before I accepted the offer of the secretaryship of state that I would not take the office conference arranging for the centennial celebration of the Treaty of Ghent. He told the diners that there would be no war while he was secretary of state, and that he never would have accepted the portfolio of the premiership if he had thought for one moment that there would be war during his incumbency of the office."

The dinner was given at the New Willard by the Carnegie Peace Foundation. Senator Elihu Root of New York presided and made an eloquent speech. Others responding to toasts were Andrew Carnegie, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador to the United States, and Lord Weardale. But the interest of those present centered upon that portion of Secretary Bryan's speech, in which he said:

"NEW YORK, May 14.—The New York Times printed yesterday a special dispatch from Washington saying that Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan made a rather significant speech at the banquet given in honor of the visiting British, Canadian and Australian delegates of the American

MR. GREENE HEAD OF PARK BOARD

Meeting at Which Two
New Members Are Present

Various Schemes of Park Improvement
Proposed

HARVEY B. GREENE,
Chosen Chairman

The near-new park commission organized last night with Harvey B. Greene as chairman. It was referred to as the "near-new" board because of the fact that two of its members, Dr. Rodriguez Mignault and John H. Mills were recently elected to succeed John J. Pickman and Thales P. Hall. It was the first meeting of the new members and Mr. Greene's election as chairman was unanimous. Mr. Greene's name was put in nomination by Mr. Carr. Mr. Carr said that because of his ten years' service on the board, his general experience and devotion to park and playground work, that Mr. Greene was eminently fitted for the chairmanship of the board and this sentiment was voiced by the other members. Mr. Greene was not a candidate for the position and accepted, he said, with more or less reluctance because it meant a considerable sacrifice of time, but if by accepting the position he could help along the park and playground work he would feel well repaid for any loss of time or other inconvenience that he might experience.

To the board, as newly organized, Mr. Greene reiterated the words of Judge Pickman relative to the treatment to be accorded the superintendent by the board members. He said that it was to the superintendent that the commissioners and other citizens would have to look for results and in order for the superintendent to do his best work it would be necessary for him to have full control. The main point to be emphasized by Mr. Greene had to do with the hiring of help. In this, he said, the superintendent must be given free rein. No member of the board should attempt to put men to work. The superintendent must have the hiring and the firing.

Mr. Carr called attention to the fact that he was not a lone tree, but a lone member on the committee on trees and he said he wanted company. On motion of Mr. Rountree, Dr. Mignault was appointed a member of the tree committee. This is an important committee and Dr. Mignault, who is a great lover of trees, said he appreciated the fact. The doctor gave a very interesting little talk on trees and stated that they meant a great deal to the health of the city.

Mr. Greene thought that the members of the commission should be kept better informed as to the workings of the department by the superintendent, what work had been done, what was being done and what was contemplated for the future. Monthly reports containing such information might be furnished by the superintendent, he thought, and in this way, the members might be better informed in a general way than they have in the past.

Mr. Mills wanted to know why the moth commission was a separate and distinct department from the park commission. It was explained by the members and superintendent that many of the incidentals and work done by the moth commission were being paid for by the park commission and it seemed to be the opinion of all that something had been done in the immediate future to see to it that the moth commission pay for what they got.

Mr. Carr suggested an increase in pay for the superintendent of parks. No action was taken.

Supl. Korman submitted a report urging better police service on the parks and commons, and it was voted to recommend the hiring of daily police protection for the South common as proposed by the superintendent and to have some of the employees of the department sworn in as special officers to serve on Fort Hill park and possibly at the North common.

It was voted to recommend to the mayor and the council the appropriation of $2500 for work needed on side-

REMOVING HIS BAGGAGE

With Board Bill Unpaid
Brought Man to Court

Charles Ayard was in police court this morning charged with removing baggage from his erstwhile boarding-house at 301 Moody street, while he still owed a board bill to the proprietor. He pleaded not guilty to the complaint. The proprietor was called to the witness stand and told the court that the defendant owed him $112 and that last Friday night he had removed his possessions from his house without saying aye, yes or no as to when he intended to square up his board bill. The defendant when he took the witness stand told Judge Pickman, who presided at today's session, that he owed the complainant about eighty dollars and that he had taken his belongings as accused. All of his property, however, did not total up very large, the main article being a suit of clothes which defendant said he had pawned in a shop on Merrimack street. The case was continued in order to look up the present whereabouts of the missing suit.

George E. Brown pleaded guilty to a complaint charging him with the non-support of his wife and minor children. The superintendent of the state institution at Tewksbury testified that the defendant's wife was at the infirmary in Tewksbury and that the defendant had been written to and interviewed personally with regard to paying for his family's maintenance but nothing had ever materialized in the way of payments. Brown, he said, was a confirmed drunkard and his money was spent for liquor as fast as he got it. Judge Pickman ordered him to the house of correction for a period of four months.

Matthew D. Doyle received a sentence of two months in jail for his third appearance for drunkenness within a year. Thomas P. O'Malley appealed his sentence of one month in jail for the same offence. Blanche Dunn was given a suspended sentence of one month in jail for drunkenness. Her husband appeared and testified against her. Margaret G. Anderson was fined $6 for her second arrest for drunkenness. There were also two occupants of today's docket who received the first offender's fine of $2 for being picked up in a drunken condition.

AMERICAN BOAT SEIZED

For Poaching in Canadian Waters

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 14.—Seized for poaching in Canadian waters the American baited schooner, Valiant, Captain John Couture of Seattle, was towed into Vancouver harbor last night by the government patrol boat, William Joffe. The Valiant is an 18 ton gasoline schooner carrying two dorcas. She is owned by the Pacific Coast Net & Twine Co. The Valiant is the fourth American fishing vessel seized for poaching by Canadian fishing patrols in recent years.

RIFLE TEAMS ENJOYED BANQUET

Lieutenant S. R. Waller Presided Over the Festivities

The two rifle teams of Company G, M. V. M., headed by Lieut. Schuyler R. Waller and Lieut. Thomas W. Doyle, enjoyed a banquet in the mess hall of the army last evening, the affair being conducted under the auspices of Lieut. Waller's team, which last night match. The agreement between the contest was stated by the losers, and he it said that the losing team stuck to the agreement and carried out their part much to the satisfaction of all concerned.

The shooting teams were composed of ten men each, and they held weekly shoots. The final score was 1140 to 1426 points in favor of Lieut. Doyle's sharpshooters.

The date of the festivities was set for last night and never a merrier gathering was seen in the mess hall. There were about 20 present, including the teams and the officers, Capt. Philip McNulty of Co. M and Mr. William Rodden of the Lowell General hospital.

A most appetizing repast was discussed and at the conclusion of the meal Lieut. Schuyler R. Waller rapped to order and delivered a short address in the course of which he complimented the winning team, and said his men had not as yet thrown up the sponge and their only hope now was another opportunity to wallop the sharpshooters, which he believes can be done. He then introduced Capt. Waller R. Jones, captain of the company, who spoke interestingly on the doings of the company and the good feeling existing between the members.

Lieut. Doyle made a few remarks on the rifle teams, while others who spoke were Sergeants Wright, Crowell, Barnes, Corporal Loupre, Private Olson and Private Braden. At the close of the speeches an entertainment program was carried out, those taking part in the musical numbers being Sergt. Deslandes, Private Conley, Corporal Walsh, Capt. Jones, Cook St. Pierre, Private Connolly and Clark's orchestra. There were also some fast boxing bouts staged by Referee Walsh. Cook

AMERICANS IN CUBA HOPE NEW REGIME WILL INSURE PEACE AND PROSPERITY

President MENOCAL
Vice President VARONA
Secretary of State TORRENTIE
Secretary of Agriculture NUNEZ
Secretary of Public Works VILLALOBOS

HAVANA, May 14.—Cubans and Americans living here awaited the inauguration of the new administra- tion on May 20 with keen interest. It was hoped that the incoming of Presi- dent Mario G. Menocal, succeeding President Gomez, would result in a new era of prosperity for the island republic. Those who had studied the career of the new president believed he would give Cuba a good administra- tion. He was born in 1856 in Jaguey Grande, Matanzas province. At an early age his family moved to the United States, and he was educated in the Military college at Washington, where he obtained the rank of captain. From there he went to Cornell, where he graduated as a civil engineer. When he returned to Cuba he became a pri- vate in the revolutionary forces and rose to the position of general. His military record was brilliant. He rendered good service to the Americans at the time of the Spanish evacuation and General Ludlow, civil governor of Ha- vana province, appointed him chief of police of Havana, a position requiring at that time great tact and ability. Enrique Jose Varona, the new vice- president, was born in 1849. He be- came professor of philosophy and ethics in the University of Havana. The members of the new cabinet are: Secretary of state, Cosme de la Torreniente; secretary of justice, Christobal de la Guardia; secretary of govern- ment, Aurelio Heria; secretary of the treasury, Leopoldo Cancio; secretary of public works, Jose Ramon Villalobos; secretary of agriculture, General Emilio Nunez; secretary of public instruction, Ezequiel Garcia; secretary of sanitation, Dr. Enrique Nunez.

LOWELL EXCLUSION BILL Was Killed in the Senate Yesterday

BOSTON, May 14.—The senate yes- terday passed three bills over vetoes by Gov. Fass. On two of the bills the vote was unanimous, on the other a solitary senator supported the gov- ernor.

The measures were:

Bill giving laborers of the Metro- politan park department $2.50 a day; passed 30 to 0.

Bill allowing Newton to take addi- tional water from the Charles river watershed; passed 28 to 0.

Bill allowing Brookline to take 5,000,000 gallons of water additional daily from the Charles river water- shed; vote 20 to 1.

A fourth vote was overridden when the house rejected the Spanish War Veterans' civil service preference bill by vote of 151 to 68. Last week the house sustained the veto by one vote. In the senate Senator Ross of New Bedford vigorously opposed the bill for compulsory attendance of children between 7 and 15 years at school and Senator Clark defended it. The bill was rejected, being refused engross- ment by a vote of 1 to 14.

Lowell Bill Killed
The bill to exclude the city of Low- ell from the Salisbury beach reserva- tion, which was substituted for the adverse part of the committee on harbors and public lands Monday, was killed yesterday, being refused third reading by vote of 19 to 7.

In the debate on the bill Senator Wells of Haverhill said that the only logical thing was to kill this bill, since the senate has refused to exclude any of the petitioning municipalities.

Senator Fisher of Westford said that the only reason why the cities of Law- rence, Haverhill and the remaining communities want to hold on to Low- ell for is that it has the biggest val- uation of any municipality in the reser- vation. Lowell has always opposed this.

Senator Draper of Lowell said that city is 40 miles from the reservation, and that he does not know of a citi- zen who favored this reservation.

THE LOST JEWELS
Motor Cyclists and Others Still Search- ing—Men Have Walked Over the Road in Search

The search still continues for that box of jewels said to contain $22,000 and lost between Lowell and Nashua by a fiction lady, who was one of an automobile party. Yesterday a number of motor cyclists went over the road, some of them as often as three times, straining their eyes to find the lost jewels. One man called at John Clun's optical parlor on Palmer street to get equipped with glasses that would make a small diamond look as large as a goose egg. Having secured a pair of strong glasses, he went over the road twice, but found no jewels. There were also men who walked all the way to Nashua and back in search of the jewels, and some who went to the seashore that they are inclined to believe that the jewels were not lost but stolen. Yet how, when, where, or by whom nobody can tell. It is possible, however, that the box was found by somebody who preferred the jewels to the reward.

Tulips with Tulips
Tulips are with tulips for a pre- vailing at times. They will insist on opening out in the most beautiful way long before the violets they are to charm or the carnations they are to grace is done. Worse than this, their own seedlings dis- tinguish all the most lamentable way. But all this may be prevented by the woman who deals firmly with her flow- ers. Tulips are greedy and drink too much when put in water, so they should be taken from their vases at night and laid in a cool dark place quite out of water altogether. By this means they will be kept from opening overwide before their time or losing their clear color. One hostess always puts her tulips in clear glass vases be- cause of the delicate green of the stems and leaves which is so delig- herate and loses its effect somewhat in the colored earthenware which suits so many flowers, but to get the best ef- fect the glass must be polished and the water clear to the highest possible degree. Another annoying way that tulips have is that of coming with their heads bent and their stalks twisted at all the most unfortunate places. If one has only a small supply, this may be remedied by setting the tulips in water up to their necks, when it will be found that they straighten themselves after a time.
